

RNLI fundraiser Marjorie braves the elements

MARJORIE ABRAHAM is a stalwart when it comes to raising money for the RNLI.

This year she has raised more than £5,350 by selling raffle tickets for her handmade patchwork quilts.

For the past 11 years, Marjorie and her friends have spent the winter months armed with a needle and thread, busily making patchwork quilts. When spring arrives, she sits outside Porthcawl lifeboat station shop selling raffle tickets, giving purchasers the opportunity to win one of the beautiful quilts.

Marjorie, who lives in Porthcawl, said: "I am used to the weather conditions now after so many years, but other than a good spring, the conditions have been fairly poor this year.

"What concerned me was that we would not have as many visitors braving the walk along the promenade to the lifeboat station, and this would reduce the number of tickets I could sell. You would think from the spring our weather would be dry and sunny, but alas this is Porthcawl and unfortunately the sun doesn't always shine."

Marjorie also sells other items and would welcome any donations of second-hand books, DVDs, and photographs for her table.

Traditionally, at the end of September the crew and helpers applaud Marjorie's efforts and help her draw the lucky winners out of the bag.

Phil Missen, lifeboat operations manager at Porthcawl, said: "If it wasn't for people like Marjorie, our lifeboats would not be able to do the job they do. It's not only the crew who are volunteers, there is a vast team of dedicated people who go to huge lengths to bring in funds for the RNLI to keep our boats afloat.

"In her first year, Marjorie raised just under £300 and each year this has grown significantly.

Her total now stands at just over a staggering £47,600.

"On behalf of the RNLI, and Porthcawl in particular, I must thank Marjorie, her friends and all her supporters who call to buy tickets from her year after year. We on the operational side of the RNLI are very appreciative."

Two charged in murder inquiry

TWO men have appeared at Bridgend Magistrates Court charged with murder, following the death of a 41-year-old man in August.

Paul Robinson was assaulted in Channel View, Brackla, on June 16 and subsequently died on August 15.

Craig James, aged 23, of Lones Road, West Bromwich, and John Samuel Norfolk, aged 22, of The Chase, Brackla, entered no plea.

COUNCIL AND UNIONS ON COLLISION COURSE AFTER JOB PAY CHANGES

by PHILIP IRWIN

A JOB evaluation exercise at Bridgend County Borough Council (CBC) has provoked anger among union members - and strike ballots have been called.

The strength of feeling among council staff was clear at a recent meeting, when more than 600 members of the Bridgend County branch of Unison met at Bridgend Rugby Football Club to discuss CBC's proposals.

Steve Belcher, the UNISON regional organiser, said: "This is an attempt to slash wages, terms and conditions under the guise of job evaluation.

"So many members turned up we eventually had to hold the meeting in the main stadium. It was an unprecedented show of frustration and disbelief.

"Our membership are incensed that Bridgend County Borough Council has chosen to treat them this way, it's an absolute insult."

He told The GEM that he had now been instructed by members to conduct an indicative ballot of the membership to determine whether the union can officially ballot for industrial action against the job evaluation scheme.

He said that the fact that 600 had come to the Bridgend meeting, and 200 to meetings in Maesteg and Porthcawl, gave a clear indication of the strength of feeling.

BCBC's assistant chief executive, David Macgregor, said: "Bridgend County Borough Council is committed to fairness and equity in the way we pay our staff, and like all councils, we must complete a job evaluation exercise.

"Under the proposals, 75 per cent of salaries will go up or stay the same. The majority of those who will benefit are our lower paid front-line staff such as care workers."

The union agrees that, of 7,800 employees, around 2,000 will face a wage cut of some sort.

However, the union has been able to point to some examples of very large reductions.

Steve Belcher said: "I know of one employee who is on £22,000 per annum, who is facing a cut to just £12,000!"

"We are also seeing couples who work for BCBC facing a cut in their joint income of up to £14,000."

He added that litter pickers, already on a low wage, had found their pay cut by £2,000.

Dave Macgregor said that negotiations would continue: "We have been working in partnership with trade union colleagues for a considerable time to develop our new pay structure.

"In our attempt to be open and transparent with all our employees, we have shared the full proposals with affected staff as we begin our initial 90-day consultation, which we hope will be meaningful.

"The council wants to maintain jobs and minimise salary losses. For this reason, the proposals will be funded from a number of sources, including a reallocation of £3m from existing budgets, reductions in salary levels for 25 per cent of council employees and changes in some pay-related terms and conditions.

"The council is doing this despite the acute public service spending pressures and the need to make £17m of savings over the next three years.

"This will allow us to meet our commitments, while not increasing the council's overall level of spending.

"We remain committed to the provision of good public services delivered by staff who are all fairly paid."

Castles and POW camps open history up to the public

LOST castles, famous ironworks and former World War Two prisoner-of-war camps are among the areas and locations that have been opened up to the public as part of the Open Doors initiative in Bridgend county borough.

Designed to give local people an opportunity to explore the area's rich history and heritage, Bridgend County Borough Council and the Civic Trust for Wales teamed up to offer a series of free events focusing on places and buildings that are not normally available to the public.

The events featured are: Oldcastle – A guided walk around one of the oldest parts of the town centre in search of evidence for a mysterious castle which is rumoured to have given the area its name.

Garw Railway – Guided tours of the locomotive works at Old Station Yard, an exhibition and talks on the various engines that have been restored or are undergoing work there and miniature locomotive rides on five-inch and 10-inch gauge tracks.

Garw Calan Lan – Guided walks exploring the mining heritage of the Blaengarw area and the story of Daniel James, the poet who wrote the famous hymn Calon Lan.

Bridgend town centre – A guided walk around Dunraven Place, the historical core of the town centre and the location of an award-winning townscape heritage initiative which is restoring local buildings to their former glory.

Bedford Ironworks and Cefn Junction Box – An exhibition at the restored signal box plus guided walks exploring the industrial heritage of the local area, including the famous ironworks.

Hut Nine, Island Farm POW Camp – A rare opportunity to enter the compound at Hut Nine, all that remains of the former World War Two prisoner of war camp, and learn about its history.

Court Colman – An open day at the historic former home of the Llywelyn family, which was associated with Margam Abbey, prominent in both Victorian and Edwardian times and still features a Tudor gateway leading to a garden house.

Deputy Leader David Sage said: "The Open Doors programme events were well attended and people made a real effort to find out more about the area's history and heritage."

"The Hut Nine event drew more than a hundred people alone, and even saw participants dressing up in authentic Home Guard and American GI uniforms. Congratulations to everyone who helped make the events such a success."

The idea came about when lecturer Claire George encouraged her IT students to take up this project as part of the college's biodiversity strategy, and they joined forces with music production students and lecturer Adam Richards to produce the song.

Kyle Kemble, a Bridgend College student involved in the production of the track, explained why he was so excited to be part of Bee Power. He said: "Now we know just how much this planet's survival depends on the humble bumble bee, we want to do everything we can to raise awareness. That's why it would be brilliant if people downloaded our song and played it to their family and friends to create a real 'buzz'!"

Remembering Bridgend troops as Afghanistan anniversary approaches

THIS October marks the 10th anniversary of British military operations in the Afghanistan conflict.

The Soldiers, Sailors, Airmen and Families Association (SSAFA) Force Help Bridgend will be remembering the anniversary and, in particular, the immeasurable sacrifices made by our servicemen, women and their families.

Since 2001, many members of our Armed Forces have given their lives and many more have been seriously injured, but it will be a long time before the full effect of the conflict on all those who have taken part is known.

As our soldiers, sailors and airmen return home, some will be carrying physical and mental scars that will last a lifetime. For some, their long-term care will fall to families and friends who will often require support themselves.

In the months and years to come, SSAFA Force Help Bridgend will be here to help veterans and their families, young and old alike, including those who have served in Afghanistan.

It is important that we remember that the effects of war remain a long time after peace has been declared and that we all owe a debt of gratitude towards all those men and women from Bridgend who have served their nation regardless of personal sacrifice.

Stay safe in the surf!

SURFERS will get lessons on staying safe in the surf from Porthcawl lifeguards.

RNLI lifeguards will be holding Surf Survival Clinics next week to teach local surfers of all abilities how to stay safe in the surf this winter.

Porthcawl is a popular spot for surfers to practise their skills, and after a successful safety session in August, the lifeguards are returning to the area.

The new clinics will be held on October 7-9. The clinics are free but spaces are limited.

Nicky Palmer, RNLI

lifeguard community engagement supervisor said: "We had a great response from the public when we held an RNLI Surf Survival Clinic at Porthcawl back in August."

"Spaces are limited, and since some people missed out on the previous clinic we wanted to return to the area and give more local surfers the chance to learn safety skills."

"It doesn't matter how experienced you are, you never know when you might get into trouble in the sea. It's always useful to know a few basic survival techniques and the Surf Survival Clinic will be a great chance to develop your skills."

The clinics, which will coincide with the Surfing Festival held at Porthcawl, include a mixture of beach and water-based activities designed to help the surfers recognise potential hazards in the water as well as demonstrating basic rescue and first aid techniques. Each participant must be over 18 and surfers are advised to bring their own board and wetsuit.

For more information on the Surf Survival Clinic or to book a place contact Nicky Palmer on 07969 208076.

Choir in fine voice

BRIDGEND Male Voice Choir has visited Lyme Regis in Dorset to raise money for a church organ appeal.

The choir performed at 900-year-old St Michael the Archangel Church in this, its third visit in four years as part of the Arts Fest and in aid of Lyme Regis Organ Appeal.

With a near-full audience of locals and holidaymakers in this small and delightful church on a Sunday afternoon, the choir's sparkling performance was warmly received.

Conducted by John Jenkins and encouraged by the mistress of the 88s, Laura Smith, on piano, and Scott Williams on the newly restored organ, the choir's achievement was impressive.

With songs of love; operatic songs; songs from the shows and traditional numbers, there was something for everyone. After the final chord, the choir left the performance with the feel-good factor knowing that it was a concert well delivered and well received.

Bridgend Male Choir can be heard locally at St Mary's Catholic Church, Bridgend at 7pm on Friday, October 21, when at its annual concert it will be joined by soprano and choir friend, Llio Evans. Tickets, £7, can be purchased at St Mary's Catholic Church; the News Shop, Dunraven Place and Porters Estate Agents, Nolton Street.

Son of Dutch soldier appeals to Porthcawl

I'M looking for information about the stay of Dutch troops in Porthcawl (Dan Y Graig) in the months from June to September in 1940.

In a photo album of my late father, Sergeant Major L de Putter (1897-1974), I recently found a picture, on the reverse side marked 'Plas Isa, Porthcawl, South-Wales - September 1940'.

My father served in the Dutch army. In May 1940, after the invasion of the German troops in the Netherlands, a part of the Dutch army was withdrawn through Belgium and France and crossed the Channel to Porthcawl, where they arrived on June 12.

They were housed in a tent camp near Porthcawl called Dan Y Graig.

In September 1940, my father and some colleagues were on leave in a certain accommodation called Plas Isa or Plas Isaf near Porthcawl.

On the internet I found a website <http://www.plasisa.co.uk>.

The windows and the slope of the roof of a building shown on it looked very similar to the building on my father's picture – but it seemed not to be the building I was looking for.

Maybe you can help me now to find the right building and, if so, do you perhaps know the people on the picture I have sent.

I think they (except the soldiers of course) were the owners or members of the staff of the hotel. My father is the second person from the right side in the back row.

On the website of Kenfig.org.uk/waryears/royaldutchtroops, I found an article about the Prinses Irene Brigade, which my father was serving with. Dap de Putter Nansenplaats 97 3069 CM Rotterdam Holland dapdeputter@gmail.com

Students strike a blow for 'Bee Power'

YOU won't believe the lengths a group of musical students have gone to to help an ailing insect!

Students from Bridgend College and pupils from Dolau Primary School have composed an original hip-hop song Bee Power to highlight the plight of the humble bumble bee, and to fundraise to save this incredible insect.

Two species of this vital pollinator have become extinct in Britain in the last 70 years, largely due to loss of habitat, and unless something is done, further extinctions will follow, with dire consequences; to quote Einstein: "If the bee disappears from the surface of the earth, man would have no more than four years to live."

The launch of Bee Power will take place in the Sony Theatre, Bridgend College, on Monday, October 17, at 10am, when the song will also be available to download for 79p on iTunes, Amazon MP3, Spotify, Medianet, emusic, Zune, Rhapsody, Nokia, iHeart radio, VerveLife and Tesco.

Bridgend's young eco-warriors hope to raise over £5,000 with 40,000 sales of Bee Power needed to chart at no.1. The money raised will go to the National Bumblebee Conservation Trust and Size of Wales.

The idea came about when lecturer Claire George encouraged her IT students to take up this project as part of the college's biodiversity strategy, and they joined forces with music production students and lecturer Adam Richards to produce the song.

CARAVANS AT LALESTON ON TV

IN this week's third episode of the BBC One Wales series that follows people in Wales who are passionate about their caravans, 0, follows Vince Owen, who is leading South Wales Caravan Club's attempt to win the biggest award in touring caravaning – the Inter-Centre Cup at the National Rally.

This year, the club also hosted this huge event in Laleston, Bridgend. The programme follows the fortunes of the club as they organise the event and see if they can carry the cup home for their club.

With competitions aplenty at the event, there's a chance for caravan fans to show off their skills in many areas.

The tug-of-war team have spent all summer training but can they beat their arch rivals from West Wales? And could all of the club's hopes rest on single-mum Angela as she takes on the best in the caravan reversing competition?

Wales on Wheels is on Friday, October 14, BBC One Wales at 7.30pm.

Charity gets help from Corrie's Mikey North

Healing The Wounds events organiser Amie Phillips pictured with Coronation Street actor Mikey North (AKA Gary Windass).

CORONATION Street star Mikey North (Gary Windass in Corrie) has become the latest celebrity to lend support to the Tondy-based Healing The Wounds charity.

Mikey praised the Welsh charity for its work with victims of PTSD, post traumatic stress disorder.

It is very appropriate for Mikey to support the charity as his Corrie character, Gary Windass, has been having an on-screen battle with PTSD.

Mikey found out about the work of Healing The Wounds when he met up with Amie Phillips, the events organiser with the charity, at a function at Cardiff City Stadium.

The charity already has leading British actor Michael Sheen as its patron and recent celebrity supporters have included singer and actor Will Young and the world's greatest living explorer, Sir Ranulph Fiennes.

"It was great to meet up with Mikey and bring him up to speed with the work Healing The Wounds does as a charity to help people in Wales who have problems with PTSD," Amie said.

"Of course, Mikey himself is very aware of PTSD, having worked with the British Legion to research his storyline on Corrie.

"He said he would do his best to help promote awareness of the charity and wished us the best of luck in our endeavours to help people suffering from PTSD.

"He was a really nice guy who seemed genuinely interested to find out more about the work we do as a charity."

Healing The Wounds executive director Kevin Richards said he was delighted to learn of Mikey's interest in the charity.

He added: "We are the only charity working to make sure that veterans and members of the civilian services get treatment for PTSD where they need it, close to their homes in Wales.

"The work we do is hugely valuable and important for the brave men and women who serve our country. To see the transformation in PTSD victims after they have attended one of our treatment courses is to appreciate what the term 'life-changing' really means."

A YOUNG man from Bridgend died last Saturday when his car left the road near Coychurch Crematorium.

Police named him as 17-year-old Scott Scanlan, and are appealing for witnesses to the incident, which happened at approximately 5.45pm on Saturday, October 1, on Heol Simonston, Brackla.

A police spokesman said: "A silver Vauxhall Corsa motor vehicle was travelling along Heol Simonston from Brackla towards Coychurch when it left the carriage-way and collided with a tree.

"The driver, who lived locally and was the sole occupant, was pronounced deceased at the scene."

Scott lived in the Bridgend area and was a former pupil of Brynteg Comprehensive School.

He had recently obtained a City and Guilds qualification in plumbing from Pencoed College, and had just started work at the Next store on Waterton Retail Park.

In a statement issued through the police, Scott's family said: "Scott was a much-loved son, brother, uncle, grandson and nephew.

"The loss will leave a massive void in the lives of everybody who knew him. Scott was a loving, 'big' character and it seemed he was known by everybody. He will be sadly missed."

South Wales Police are appealing for any witnesses to contact them.

The police would like to speak to anyone who witnessed the collision, or who stopped to provide assistance, or anyone who may have seen the vehicle being driven prior to the collision and who have not yet given their details.

The road was closed for approximately five hours while police carried out initial investigations and recovered a vehicle.

South Wales Police would like to thank the people affected by the closure for their patience and understanding.

Anyone with information is asked to contact the South Wales Police Roads Policing Unit at Gwaed-y-Garth on 01656 655555 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Son organises charity sale of late artist's lost paintings

PAINTINGS by a local artist, uncovered after her death by her son, are to go on display for the first time this weekend, to help raise money to support people with lung disease.

Dave Dawson, who lives in Cardiff, found the paintings while sorting through his mother's possessions after her death earlier this year.

His mother, talented artist Catherine Dawson, lived in Pencoed, where she held art classes at her home.

The artworks are being exhibited at the Nolton Art Gallery in Bridgend. The exhibition opened on Saturday, October 1, and proceeds from the sale of paintings will go towards the work of the British Lung Foundation (BLF) Wales.

The charity helps fund medical research into lung disease, and it supports Breathe Easy groups across Wales - including in Bridgend.

Mr Dawson said: "My mother was a very generous person. She was always giving things away. When I discovered her work, friends and Bridgend Art Society suggested it would be a good idea to exhibit and sell her work. She painted a range of things. She loved it. As far back as I can remember she was painting and she was well known on the local art scene. I hope a lot of people will come along to support the exhibition."

Chris Mulholland, head of BLF Wales, said: "The money that our supporters raise makes a real difference for people in Wales with lung conditions.

"I'd like to say a heartfelt thank you to Dave and his family, and to the Nolton gallery team, for helping to support our work."

Message from the Mayor of Porthcawl, Coun Barbara Stubbs A town of all the talents and inspiring people!

HELLO everyone! My husband and I have had an extremely enjoyable September. We were invited to the official opening of the refurbished Porthcawl sub-way, undertaken jointly by SHOUT and BCBC.

The urban art gallery designed by local students from Porthcawl Comprehensive School displays the outstanding artistic skills of our young people.

We have visited three concerts at the Grand Pavilion this month. The Porthcawl Male Voice Choir held their annual celebrity concert, which also featured Lesley Garrett as their guest artist.

The Can You Sing children's opera was organised by Patricia O'Neill and Erica Beynon. The Movies and Musicals was organised by David Hughes and Joanne Walters for Barnado's Cymru.

All three concerts were outstanding in every way. What musical talents - young and adult - we have in this area!

We were also invited to the Miners' brass band competition at the Pavilion. Twelve bands entered and I presented a prize to one of the winners.

Once again, the competition displayed the fantastic musical talents people have in this area.

We attended a very enjoyable garden party held by the Royal British Legion, Porthcawl, to celebrate its 90th anniversary.

Our visit to the Boxing Club in New Road was a real eye-opener. The club has about 200 members, ranging from children to adults. The skills taught there go beyond sporting skills by showing young people how to work as a team and how to respect each other and everyone else. The club needs financial help and it certainly deserves it.

We took part in the fun walk from the Hi-Tide to Rest Bay and back. It was held to raise funds for Crossroads for Carers, young and old.

Crossroads gives a much-needed service by providing support and advice to carers in this area and beyond.

We judged entries of flowers, plants, vegetables, fruit and cakes from Newton Church Allotment Society for their annual show in the Ancient Briton, where children and adults took part. What fantastic displays! It was difficult to choose the winners.

The KRUF coffee morning in the Atlantic was very well attended. How committed these committee members are to raising funds in aid of Kidney Research Wales.

We presented flowers to Mr and Mrs Davies, Sandpiper Road, to help celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary.

What an inspiration they are to us all!

I presented prizes to the winners of the art and poetry competitions from West Park Primary School. As a past teacher, how wonderful it was for me to see what a very high standard these pupils had achieved.

We enjoyed the civic service of Coun Marie Griffith-Jones at St Cynwyd's Church in the pretty village of Llangynwyd.

I have also attended full council meetings, committee meetings, diamond jubilee working group meetings, regeneration forum meetings, Civic Fund committee meetings, which are all helping to improve Porthcawl and to arrange forthcoming events in the town.

My husband and I are very fortunate to have met up with so many people who are an inspiration to us all.

Well, it's goodbye for now. I look forward to writing to you next month. Have a good October!

Coun Barbara Stubbs, Porthcawl Town Mayor.

Rockers are set to drum home a very important message!

A FEAST of live rock music is on offer in Bridgend on Friday, in celebration of World Mental Health Day.

The Cardiff-based headliners are an alternative guitar-free trio, who are generating an ever-increasing following. The night also includes live performances from Bridgend-based bands Colours of One (a five-piece alternative rock band), Where is Billy, Four Words Later and Station 13.

Throughout the concert, there will be short videos made by Bridgend College student Sophie Williams highlighting young people's successes in overcoming personal issues.

Tots are on a roll!

IT'S a roll-over this weekend at Bridgend Tumble Tots - all in aid of charity.

Forty children who attend Bridgend Tumble Tots, the nationwide physical play programme for children, will be taking part in a sponsored roll for baby charity, Tommy's, on Tuesday, October 11.

Organised in support of Tommy's, the only charity in the UK which is solely dedicated to finding treatments to prevent problems in pregnancy, the national Tumble Tots campaign 'Roll Over with Peppa Pig for Tommy's' hopes to raise over £50,000.

Children attending their Tumble

Tots class will be sponsored to carry out 10 different rolling activities and will be encouraged to dress as Peppa Pig characters.

Sharon Evans, who runs Tumble Tots South Wales, said: "Children are never too young to get active and this is a great opportunity for the children to show off the skills they have been learning in class.

"Tumble Tots is also proud to support the fabulous research work that Tommy's does."

Hundreds of Roll Over with Peppa sessions at Tumble Tots Centres are set to happen nationwide during National Children's Activity Week.

1ST BROADLANDS RAINBOW GUIDES' FIRST SLEEPOVER!

BACK in May this year, 1st Broadlands Rainbow Guides (girls aged five to seven years) went on their first Rainbow sleepover.

There were lots of Rainbow Guides and plenty of very good helpers/volunteers too. The senior section girls were just as excited as the Rainbows.

I completed my licence and just have to wait for the evaluation to be finalised by the indoor camp adviser (Sue Daniel) who hasn't been well - we wish her a speedy recovery.

She had the shock of her life when she arrived to assess me, two local police officers were knocking on the door - she didn't know what to say until she realised they were paying a courtesy visit as they had been invited to tea and cake and gave a safety talk too. We played games, did crafts and watched a brand new DVD called Tangled.

We rented a local Scout hall; they kindly let us borrow their indoor tents and everything else was already provided or bought for the event. We had hot dogs for supper, a tuck shop and hot chocolate before bed.

The girls were telling the adults to be quiet as they wanted to sleep and we were talking too loudly (there's a change in roles).

The next morning they all awoke, had breakfast, packed up and we had lots of space for more games and craft then the parents started arriving - I didn't think they were going to go home.

I was on such a high because it couldn't have gone any better and I owe that to the wonderful volunteer helpers that I had including the 1st Penybont senior section girls and leaders and a couple of mums.

Thanks you, I will have my licence very soon and am busily planning the next sleepover.

We started back in September after the summer holidays and the first thing the girls asked was "when can we do another sleepover?"

Rocky

ROCKY and Adrienne came to the Bridgend Adoption Centre in May from a multi-cat household.

They are a little shy towards us humans as they haven't been given the attention they deserve. They can be homed together or on their own and need a quiet home. They are just over one year old.

Rugby banquet raises £1,500 for mayor's civic charity

THE civic charity for the Mayor of the County Borough of Bridgend had a very successful banquet at the Golden Well Oriental Restaurant on Sunday, September 23.

The evening was most enjoyable, with more than 100 guests attending, and the three chosen charities were all present and enjoyed the company of the many friends and dignitaries that support the charity events.

The Mayor, Coun Chris Michaelides, had invited special guests and members of his family including his chaplain Rev Stephen Pare, who said grace before the meal.

The Mayor and Mayoress of the Vale of Glamorgan, chairman and consort of Carmarthenshire, Janice Gregory AM, and husband Coun Mike Gregory were all well looked after by Coun Mel Nott, leader of the Bridgend County Borough Council and his wife Yvonne.

The master of ceremonies was the well-known J J Williams, former Wales international, who introduced special guest speaker Emyr Lewis, ex-Llanelli and Cardiff RFC and Wales international. He spoke about his experiences in the world of rugby.

Emyr flew to New Zealand on Monday as he is also a commentator and broadcaster with BBC Wales and S4C Cymru.

Wonderful raffle prizes were donated and the charity benefited to the sum of £1,500 from a fabulous evening.

Support group

A MEETING of the HSP Support Group is being held at the Seabank Hotel, Porthcawl, on Saturday, October 29, from 2pm to 4pm.

The HSP (Hereditary Spastic Paraplegia) group provides support for people with this condition in Wales, and meets twice a year in Porthcawl.

HSP is a very rare condition affecting around 1 in 20,000 people. All sufferers are born with the condition, but it may not manifest itself until later in life. First signs are tripping up, which progressive gets worse leading to walking aids and, in many cases, a wheelchair.

Council uses food festival to highlight Bridgend

AN alternative food festival has been giving businesses from across the UK a taste of what Bridgend town centre could offer if they decided to relocate or expand into the area.

Organised by Bridgend County Borough Council, the potential investors event coincided with the second ever Feastival, a special food festival which showed off the best local produce in Wales by filling the town centre's pedestrianised streets with more than 70 stalls, marquees, trailers and mobile kitchens.

A council spokesman said: "Before joining the crowds to sample some of the culinary delights on offer, the visitors gained an insight into the advantages of doing business in Bridgend, and the expert support and advice that the council could offer."

"They were able to see how townscape heritage initiative funding is being used to transform many town centre buildings and restore them to their architectural prime, and they were invited to approach the council with their ideas, proposals and suggestions for new ways of doing business."

Council leader Mel Nott said: "I am immensely proud of all the hard work that has gone into regenerating Bridgend town centre and this was a perfect opportunity to attract more inward investment."

PORTHCAWL'S LATE, LATE SUMMER MUSIC FESTIVAL IS A MASSIVE HIT!

PORTHCAWL'S summer music festival fell victim to a wet Sunday in August.

However, the town council-sponsored event was offered a second chance, and took place last Sunday at the Hi-Tide Inn.

The event was opened by the Mayor of Porthcawl, Coun Barbara Stubbs (pictured below), and the first band on stage was the Sker Crows.

They were followed later by a number of other local bands, including Rider, Sassie, Red Room Therapy, and the Love Handles.

Providing a youthful flavour to the event while The Gem photographer Malcolm Nugent was present, were members of the Porthcawl Rock Club.

The youngsters had formed five groups, called Disco Leftovers; Goony; Sushi; Spirit; and D Code.

The rock club is run by local tutor Raul Martin-Arrieta, and it meets in the John Street offices of Sustainable Wales on Saturday mornings, giving nine to 15-year-olds the chance to learn an instrument and experience playing in a band.

For further information on the rock club, telephone 01656 786319.

Côr Meibion Cwm Garw

The concert takes place at the Garw Valley Leisure Centre on Saturday, October 15, starting at 7.30pm. If it is anything like last year's marvellous evening, it is an event not to be missed. Tickets cost £5 and children up to 16 £2.50, and can be obtained from Pontycymer Post Office or by telephone 01656 870304.

those whose birthday fell during the month.

Unfortunately, the speaker for the evening, Philip Davies on the subject "This order in court" had to cancel. Chris Philips then gave a talk concerning the autumn council meeting at the end of September.

The members of the quiz team for the competition taking place in the Hi Tide in Porthcawl were selected, and everyone wished them good luck.

Chris also advised members on the Craft

Spectacular that is taking place in Cowbridge on Saturday, November 12.

At the recent Pen-y-Fai fun day, the WI had opened a stall and raised £116, from which they donated £50 to Macmillan nurses charity and the remainder to the Bridgend Food Bank, which each month finds it has more and more people requiring its assistance.

The WI has also started collecting boxes for the Operation Christmas Child charity.

The sub section which meets on Fridays in Tondy Methodist Church Hall to discuss books they had read or make craft items, was still very successful.

Angela Smith announced that she was collecting money for the trips to the Albert Hall in London, and the concerts Oliver and Joseph, which are taking place in Cardiff.

Two sessions of quizzes were played by the members; Avril Day won the raffle prize and the members finished the meeting by enjoying a slice of Bara Brith and a cup of tea.

The next meeting is in the primary school hall on Monday, October 17, at 7.30pm, visitors and new members will be most welcome.

Triathlon

CONGRATULATIONS to Dom Gunton, who competed in the recent Ironman Triathlon in Tenby.

He completed his fastest swim in the sea ever of 1 hour 57 minutes for 2.4 miles, then cycled 112 miles in 7 hours 19 minutes and, to finish off, ran a marathon of 26.2 miles in 4 hours 15 minutes – a magnificent total time of 13 hours 15 minutes.

He believed he could have completed the course in a quicker time if there had been less windy conditions. Well done Dom.

St Bride's Church, Llansantffraid

THE members of the church have once again agreed that the church will be a collection point for the shoe boxes of Operation Christmas Child.

As 2012 is Olympic year in the UK, it is suggested that perhaps the following items suitable for sports can be included: tennis ball, skipping rope, inflatable beach ball, sweat band, baseball hat and toy medals, along with other items but not food.

THE wonderful male voice choir Côr Meibion Maesteg a'r Cylch is celebrating its 37th annual concert at the above hall on Saturday, October 22, at 7pm.

The choir has been successful under its well-respected musical director Rhian Jenkins. Born in Bridgend, Rhian is an accomplished conductor of male choirs that she has prepared for major concerts in both the Millennium Stadium and the Royal Albert Hall.

Rhian was a graduate of the Royal Welsh College of Music and Drama, where she won the much coveted John Ireland Piano Prize. She is currently head of music at Pencoe Comprehensive School, where she has been musical director of a variety of school productions.

Rhian is also accompanist for the Maesteg mixed voice choir. Noteworthy.

One of the guest artists for the concert is Angharad Morgan. Angharad is also a graduate of the Royal Welsh College of Music and Drama, where she won a number of awards as a soprano, including the Lee Freeman Memorial Scholarship.

In 2003, Angharad successfully won the title of Vale singer of the year.

Local man gives charity a helping hand

A COWBRIDGE man has helped a fundraising group raise cash for Alzheimer's research by tackling a sponsored walk.

Mike Hallett, the manager of the Penlyne Farm Estate in Cowbridge, raised more than £1,000 for Alzheimer's Society by walking 19 miles from the LTS branch in Pencoe to the LTS Branch in Cardiff Bay.

He said: "It was a long way but I was determined to do it, as so many people in and around Cowbridge had sponsored me. I couldn't let them, or the Alzheimer's Society, down."

The walk was organised by the property rental and sales agents LTS. Each year staff select a charity to support and this year they decided to organise a sponsored branch-to-branch walk in aid of the Alzheimer's Society, with the aim of raising £5,000.

A spokeswoman said: "Thanks to Michael's efforts we have exceeded our target."

To be held at 6.00 pm Thursday 13th October 2011

Anyone interested may obtain more details and "The Welcome Pack" by e-mailing OpenEvening@PorthcawlSchool.co.uk or by telephoning 01656 774109.

Porthcawl is a traditional school with a proven track record of excellence for all. Examination results have been consistently above local and national averages.

Over 83% of this year's GCSE pupils gained at least 5A* to C grades. (A record for Bridgend County Borough Council).

This is what Estyn (School Inspectors) said about us:-

"Transition arrangements from both primary into secondary and into the Sixth Form are very strong. The outstanding primary/secondary liaison is very well co-ordinated".

"Behaviour is very good, based on self-discipline and outstanding relationships exist between students and teachers".

"The overall provision for pupils and students' personal development is an outstanding feature of the school".

"The quality of the accommodation is good and in some areas very good. The provision of ICT facilities is an outstanding feature of the school".

"The school has a very rigorous approach to bullying; there are very good follow up procedures".

"There is an exceptional range of extra-curricular activities, held mainly during lunchtimes and after school, the participation rates are very high".

THEY say that the secret of a happy life is to do a job that you enjoy – rather than one that just pays the mortgage.

It is a philosophy that Llantwit Major butcher Alan Young has followed and even now, at the age of 71, he is still passionate about his subject.

However, everyone has to call it a day sometime, and last Saturday marked Alan's retirement from Young's butchers in Llantwit – a mere 58 years after he started helping the master butcher David Thomas Griffiths, who was running the shop back in 1953.

That helping out led to an apprenticeship, and Alan qualifying himself as a master butcher, and then on to a partnership – hence the vintage bicycle outside the shop, which is signwritten as 'Griffiths and Young'.

by PHILIP IRWIN

Eventually, Mr Griffiths retired and the business passed to Alan Young.

The GEM called around last Friday, when two of Alan's regular customers, Sally and Mark Carnall, were dropping in a retirement card, and a bottle of wine, as a token of their appreciation.

Sally said: "Alan has been great, and he has risen to every challenge we set him – he never let us down."

Alan's grandson, Jacob, was there, having just finished his weekly task of making the fagots, and Alan was particularly pleased, because just two weeks ago, it looked as if the shop would close when he retired.

He said: "This has been a butcher's shop for more than 100 years – and it was purpose built as one. We have never had to change the layout, or anything at all."

"In fact, a number of customers used to warn me that if I ever did change anything, that would be the last I saw of them!"

Alan is keen to stress that age is the only factor in his retirement. Changing shopping patterns, and the growth of supermarkets, have affected many traditional businesses, but trade in Llantwit Major remains as strong as ever.

In fact, he thinks that the plethora of 'foodie' programmes on TV have led to customers returning to a traditional butcher who can supply the cuts of meat favoured in many recipes.

Nevertheless, it did look as if the shop would close when Alan retired, but in the nick of time another master butcher, Eric Smith has come forward to take it over.

The shop is closed this week, as both Alan and Eric are on holiday, and then it will re-open. Alan intends to be around for much of that week, to introduce Eric to his customers.

Alan said: "Eric grew up on a farm in North Yorkshire, and qualified as a butcher before joining the RAF. He knows Llantwit from being posted to St Athan."

In recent years, Alan has made a point of selling meat (and fresh vegetables) supplied by a local farmer, Rhodri Davies, and Alan is delighted that Eric will be continuing that arrangement.

This fits in with Alan's belief that shops such as his do play a major part in community life.

He said: "A lot of people still want to feel that they are part of a community – and that community still cares about its shops.

"There is a growing movement to get back to the old ways of buying food, and our tie-in with a local farmer is part of that."

So, after 58 years, Alan must surely have seen some changes?

He said: "I can remember when chicken was a once a year meat – usually on Christmas Day. This was because so many families kept hens – and those hens would be laying eggs all year round."

"It was only when they hatched a batch of chicks that they would put the cockerel aside and fatten him up for Christmas!"

Alan's enthusiasm for his subject is infectious, and he can talk in huge detail, for instance, about the demise of dripping, as prepared by thrifty housewives who were, so it now seems, at the forefront of recycling when they put all the fat from the Sunday roast in a bowl in the pantry (the coldest room, in the house – always north facing, and I'm taking Alan's word for that!).

Week after week, that dripping would absorb the flavours of different Sunday roasts, and that delicious end product, which used to be spread on toast, is pretty much lost these days. The dripping sold these days, says Alan, is little more than boiled fat!

So, Alan is looking forward to enjoying his retirement in the Vale – a place he really cares about. He was, after all, born and bred in Llantwit Major.

His wife Julie, who grew up in Pembrokeshire, came to live in Llantwit, and they brought up three sons, Jason, Leigh and Mathew.

All three grew up helping out in the shop, and have supported Alan 100 per cent, although they have jobs outside the trade.

Alan's grandson, Jacob, has helped out two days a week, and another grandson, Joshua, helped out one day a week.

It has always been a family affair, and Alan finished by saying: "I really have to thank Julie for all her help."

"She has been a great mother, and grandmother, and a huge support to me."

Clarke Skaltsky-Newman and Sharon James.

TO celebrate its 10th anniversary, Phoenix Theatre.com is presenting Frank Vickery's comedy, All's Fair, at the Grand Pavilion, Porthcawl, from October 13-15.

A Phoenix spokesman said: "This hilarious but poignant comedy is set in the wartime Rhonda and captures the claustrophobic yet protective and supportive atmosphere of life in the Welsh Valleys in 1942."

"The story revolves around two bus conductresses or 'Clippies' as they were more commonly known, Dilys and Sophie. Dilys, in love with an American GI and Sophie, frustrated at being unmarried and happy to settle for Dilys's dull brother."

"Clarke Skaltsky-Newman who is playing Sophie said: 'We've all really enjoyed rehearsing this play, it's so much fun.'"

Clarke continued: "Getting the nostalgic detail correct is so important. In one scene, I have to apply gravy browning and draw a pencil line on the back of my legs like they used to do in the war to replicate stockings. Perhaps I might even learn how to get a straight line by the time we are on stage!"

Long standing member Paul Morgan of Newton said: "This will be our 16th show. Over the years, as an amateur company, we have donated money to local charities such as The Sandville and it's only the support of our audiences that allows us to do this."

Tickets £10, are available from the Phoenix ticket line 01656 783647.

AM's concern over treatment of local stroke patients

REGIONAL AM Suzy Davies has queried how stroke patients are treated in the Bridgend area.

Mrs Davies, who is a Welsh Conservative AM for South Wales West, used the freedom of information process to ask the ABM health board what facilities it provides to deal with stroke patients.

She was told by the board that there is a dedicated acute stroke unit in Ward 2 at the Princess of Wales Hospital in Bridgend.

The board explained that clot-busting drugs are available 24 hours a day, seven days a week to patients at the hospital as appropriate.

The board also stated that it has developed Transient Ischaemic Attack (TIA) clinics across the board's area to try and prevent strokes occurring.

Mrs Davies also asked about the operating hours of the scanners at the hospital, because suspected stroke patients need to be scanned before the correct treatment can be prescribed.

She was told that the Princess of Wales has out-of-hours emergency cover for stroke patients provided by on-call staff at weekends, evenings and bank holidays.

"I was concerned about what facilities and treatment were available within South Wales West for people who have suffered strokes," she said.

"I am pleased that the board seems to be dealing effectively with such patients but I would be interested to hear from stroke patients about their experiences.

"I have also written to health minister Lesley Griffiths urging her to provide funding to extend the operating hours of hospital scanners routinely."

"It would save money in the long run if patients could be scanned in the evenings and at weekends instead of being admitted to scarce hospital beds when there is often no need."

"Also, it concerns me that the Stroke Association claims that it was not contacted by the Welsh Labour Government in relation to its Stroke Risk Reduction Action Plan."

"Wales is not meeting national standards at the moment in the treatment of stroke patients, with the government's own targets being missed."

"Only 87 per cent of stroke patients are meeting the criteria laid down by the Welsh NHS."

"It worries me that the Stroke Association, which is a key player in this field, has not been contacted for more than a year about the plan and its implementation."

"We have 11,000 stroke victims a year in Wales so this is a crucial issue for the NHS."

A Welsh Government spokesman said: "The Health Minister, Lesley Griffiths, responded to the Assembly Member on this issue in July, shortly after receiving the letter."

"Stroke is a medical emergency and NHS services must be organised to respond to it as such."

"Significant improvements have been made to the development of stroke services. All major hospitals now offer thrombolysis with several having developed a 24/7 service and work continues to provide a 24/7 service at all sites providing specialist stroke care."

"Significant improvements have also been seen in the time from a patient being presented at A&E to their admission to a stroke unit and receiving a specialist medical assessment and treatment."

"Access to hospital scanning services is an operational matter for the Health Board but we would expect patients to receive timely access to scans to ensure swift access to diagnosis and treatment."

The spokesman went on: "As well as investing in improving services, we are also investing in educating people about the main risk factors for stroke."

"The Stroke Association was involved in the development of the Stroke Risk Reduction Plan as part of our Stroke Services Improvement Programme."

He added: "Since then, we have worked with them on the 'Ask First' campaign to raise awareness that high blood pressure and atrial fibrillation (irregular heartbeat) are serious risk factors and can lead to a stroke."

"The campaign also encouraged adults to visit their GP to have their blood pressure and pulse checked."

A PICTURESQUE SETTING FOR KENFIG CHORISTERS

RECENTLY, the Kenfig Hill Male Voice Choir and its youth arm 'Crescendo', took part in the Gwili Steam Railway Festival of Welsh Music at Carmarthen.

The Gwili Steam Railway, a restored railway at Carmarthen, had teamed up with a number of talented local artistes, musicians and choirs to perform at the festival site at the railway's Llwyfan Cerrig Station.

The festival was presented by Arfon Haines Davies of BBC Radio Cymru.

The choirs were picked up at the Green Acre in North Cornelly and transported in style to the Gwili Steam Railway terminus at Carmarthen by a vintage red London Transport Routemaster Double-Decker Bus.

At the Bronwydd Arms terminus, they boarded a train drawn by a vintage steam engine and were taken to the festival site at the Llwyfan Cerrig Railway Station four miles up the picturesque Gwili rural line.

On arrival at their destination, they were welcomed by Arfon Haines Davies, the presenter of the festival.

The Festival of Welsh Music was blessed with a wonderful day, which served to enhance the beautiful setting.

There was a good turnout for the occasion and both choirs performed well to an appreciative audience and an accolade from Arfon Haines Davies.

They also had a further fitting reward for their efforts on the return journey to Bronwydd Arms, when they travelled in the Felinfoel Double Dragon Buffet Car.

Here, choir members were able to amply quench their thirst brought on by a long day's singing in the sunshine before boarding the 'Big Red Bus' for the return journey home.

Clean-up deadline for 'semi-derelict' site is welcomed by shadow minister SHADOW Regeneration Minister Byron Davies has welcomed news that the owners of the former Revlon site in Maesteg have just one more month to remove all material from the site and leave it in safe condition.

Mr Davies, who is a Welsh Conservative regional AM for South Wales West which includes Maesteg, has raised the state of the site with the Health and Safety Executive (HSE) and the Welsh Government.

Mr Davies said he was appalled when he paid a visit soon after being elected and saw the semi-derelict state that the site had been left in.

Contractors involved in demolishing the buildings were served with a prohibition notice in May 2010 by the HSE because of the presence of asbestos and have since been prosecuted for unsafe practices.

Mr Davies has now been told by the HSE that the site owners - Condor Properties - employed a specialist company to operate wetting equipment to damp down the asbestos covered debris which has kept everything in a wet condition since, reducing the risks from asbestos dust.

The letter, from HSE chief executive Geoffrey Podger, also revealed that they have been working closely with Bridgend County Borough Council (BCBC) and the Environment Agency and a notice has been served on the site owners requiring the removal of all materials from the site by October 23. It is to be left in a safe condition.

Mr Davies has also received letters from BCBC officers and from deputy leader David Sage welcoming his intervention with the Minister and stating that the council is doing everything it can to expedite the issue.

"I welcome news that an end may at last be in sight for the residents who live nearby," he said. "It has been left looking literally like a bomb site for far too long."

"In this day and age, with all the rules and regulations that we have in place to protect the environment, I find it quite astonishing that it has taken so long to sort out this problem."

"I understand that court action against the demolition contractors has now concluded which clears the way for the site to be cleared once and for all."

"This is a valuable area in the Llynfi Valley and its regeneration is important for job creation."

"The site has been designated for mixed use in the new local development plan and it adjoins the former Cooper Standard site which is owned by BCBC and is ready for alternative industrial use."

"I have been told by regeneration minister Huw Lewis that negotiations regarding the sale of the Revlon site to new owners are ongoing and that there is a desire to bring both of these sites under one master plan."

"The Revlon site is integral to the redevelopment of the area and I hope that this can now be progressed as quickly as possible."

A Condor Properties Ltd spokesman explained:

"The situation of the semi-derelict site was an unfortunate result of a co-ordinated attack and theft from the site."

"Local authorities, police and insurance companies are fully aware of the matter and are dealing with it the best they can."

He pointed out: "Condor Properties Limited has limited financial resources and therefore has devoted its efforts to sourcing an adequate buyer with the financial power to clean, manage and redevelop the site."

Bonus weekend for tourism industry

THE weather forecasters were dead right last weekend when their prediction of an 'Indian summer' weekend came true.

With temperatures soaring to 28°C, continuous convoys of cars streamed in to Porthcawl all day on Saturday. At 1pm, the car park at Salt Lake was almost full, with cars still pouring in.

On Coney Beach, visitors enjoyed a bonus summer day by basking in the sun. Bathers were braving the waves and entering the sea in re-sonable numbers considering that the water temperature would have been a lot colder than on the beach.

Even the donkeys had been brought back from what they had no doubt thought was the beginning of their winter break. The fairground did well and was heaving as all the rides had been advertised as half price for the traditional end-of-season weekend.

On Sunday, forearmed and forewarned, camper vans descended on Porthcawl like a horde of locusts!

Eastern Promenade was filled from end to end as they lined up nose to tail like a train load of carriages waiting at a station.

What's more, there were still others arriving, trying to find an empty berth in which to park! Coney Beach was again crowded with sun worshippers and with the tide in in the morning, many took the opportunity to have a last swim before the weather returned to normal.

Three tours!

ONE young cricketer who has made a promising start is Chris Matthews, a year-7 pupil at St Clare's School in Porthcawl.

During the summer, Chris went on three tours with the Wales under-11 cricket team to north Wales, the Midlands and the West Country.

Chris took part in all nine games and performed well enough to be asked to play again for the under-12s at the Taunton festival, where he played in three of the games over the course of the five-day event.

Bridgend gets on the food festival circuit with its very own distinctive 'Feastival'

THOUSANDS of visitors got a taste of local and Welsh produce – and a flavour of Bridgend – when they visited the town's alternative food festival.

The record-breaking temperatures on Friday, September 30, and Saturday, October 1, were matched by a record-breaking number of visitors to the Feastival, with organisers reporting a huge increase compared to last year's inaugural event.

Feastival, organised by Bridgend County Borough Council (BCBC), was a showcase of 60 high-quality Welsh food and drink exhibitors, together with cookery demonstrations and unusual food events spread across the town's pedestrianised areas.

The event was kicked off with a quirky version of the famous Olympic torch relay; double Olympian Steve Brace ran, cycled and swam the length of Wales with a giant leek before delivering it to Bridgend for the Feastival opening ceremony.

In addition to the many food exhibitors, there were more unusual attractions such as Britain's Got Talent's 'Marmite on toast' artist Nathan Wyburn, an Egg Drop Championship, a 'Leek Lobbing' competition, the 'Leaning Tower of Pizza' and chefs on stilts.

A BCBC spokeswoman said: "As well as flocking to Feastival's many stalls and attractions, shoppers also helped increase local trade with businesses in the town centre and the indoor market."

The leader of BCBC, Coun Mel Nott said: "The weather was terrific and so was the event itself. Last year the event was known for its collapsing cauliflower sheep – this year I think people will remember Feastival as an occasion when the town centre really came alive."

"Everywhere you looked, visitors were walking around smiling and eating and, of course, spending money, which was great for the Feastival traders and those businesses that make up the heart and soul of the town centre."

THE Vale MP Alun Cairns attended the recent coffee morning at Barry Comprehensive School held as part of the World's Biggest Coffee Morning in aid of Macmillan Cancer Support.

Pupils and staff at Barry Comprehensive were keen to join in the fun and be a part of Macmillan's 'Biggest Coffee Morning' event – supporting the charity as they do every year.

"It's great to see that the pupils were able to have fun organising the coffee morning for their friends, fellow pupils and staff – while also raising money for people affected by cancer," he said.

NEW PROJECT HOPES TO PUT PUB AT CENTRE OF VILLAGE LIFE

by PHILIP IRWIN

THE Vale Council is joining a new project that aims to keep services in rural villages by helping pubs take on extra business activities, such as a post office or even becoming a village shop.

The scheme is bound to be of interest to communities such as Wick and Ewenny, which recently lost their Post Office, or Llansannor, where the local pub, the City Inn, has been closed for several years.

Known as 'The Pub is the Hub' the scheme was started in 2001 by HRH The Prince of Wales, who has been quoted as saying: "Rural communities, and this country's rural way of life, face unprecedented challenges.

"The country pub, which has been at the heart of village life for centuries, is disappearing in many areas. Providing services from the pub, such as a post office or a shop, keeps an essential service in the village."

Pub is the Hub is affiliated to His Royal Highness's Rural Action Programme, and is a 'not for profit' advisory organisation.

A spokesman for the organisation said: "It encourages local authorities, local communities, licensees, pub owners and breweries to work together to support, retain and locate services within rural pubs.

"Pub is the Hub assists with guidance on availability of project funding, and having a thorough understanding of the pub business, is able to advise on the best way to progress each individual project.

"Pub is The Hub has advised more than 30 communities who have considered taking over their pub, and we are currently advising a number of groups who are buying, leasing or starting to run their village pub and ensure it stays as a community focal point.

"Through Pub is the Hub, we currently have six different types of 'community operation' models and we find that communities need a great deal of help with the complexities of running a pub, in addition to deciding which model to adopt, and in raising the finance."

The Vale Council is planning to join seven other local authorities, in the main in north and mid Wales, with Bridgend County Borough Council as the only other southern authority involved.

The project is being led by Cadwyn Clwyd, the rural development agency for Denbighshire and Flintshire.

The total project value for the Vale of Glamorgan element is £34,873, and the Vale Council only has to provide match funding of £3,224, from an existing rural regeneration revenue budget.

Mae'r GEM yn falch o fod yn un o bartneriaid swyddogol Eisteddfod Genedlaethol Bro Morgannwg, 2012

The GEM is proud to be an official partner of The Vale of Glamorgan 2012 Eisteddfod world's greatest cultural festivals, the National Eisteddfod of Wales.

We've all heard the word 'Eisteddfod', but how much do we know about the National Eisteddfod of Wales and what we can expect when it comes to the Vale next year?

Over the next few months we'll be looking forward to the 2012 festival, looking back at other Eisteddfodau held in the area and providing you with everything you need to know about the Vale of Glamorgan National Eisteddfod, held from August 4-11, 2012, on the site of the Old Airfield in Llandow.

The National Eisteddfod of Wales is one of the great festivals of the world, attracting over 150,000 visitors every year. The Eisteddfod is a travelling festival which belongs to the people of Wales - wherever they live - and this is an integral part of its appeal. The festival visits north and south Wales alternately, and hosting the National Eisteddfod is a great boost for any area.

It's an ideal opportunity to take part in cultural activities in your area, and it's also a great opportunity to promote the region as a tourist destination. The economic effect on the area is huge, with the Eisteddfod contributing between £6-8 million to the local economy during the week.

The Eisteddfod is the home of literature, music, dance, recitation, theatre, visual arts, science and technology, and all types of culture in Wales, and although the festival only lasts for a week, the preparatory work and the buzz surrounding the event and all its activities lasts for more than two years before the Eisteddfod. Volunteers in the Vale of Glamorgan have been hard at work for over a year organising events the length and breadth of the county to raise funds and awareness. The site of the Llandow Airfield will be transformed into a cultural mecca during the first week of August next year with the main festival site itself or 'Maes' itself taking over a 35 acre site and with car parking, and the official caravan a camping site situated nearby.

The main focal point of the Eisteddfod site or 'Maes' as it is known will be the 2,000 seater pavilion.

This huge pink marquee is the venue where during the day the main competitions and ceremonies are held and in the evening the pavilion is transformed into a world class concert venue, performers over recent years have included stars like Katherine Jenkins, Bryn Terfel, Cerys Mathews, Rebecca Evans, Connie Fisher and Only Men Aloud. Add to that satellite pavilions which include a literature pavilion, theatre and dance pavilion, performance stages, contemporary art exhibition and

MEMORIES OF BANKING IN THE GOOD OLD DAYS

YOUR correspondent Christopher Short's letter (The GEM, September 15) referring to Thompson Street and, in particular, the fine old Lloyds Bank building which was on a commanding corner site overlooking Barry Docks and I believe had a teak-lined interior in the banking hall, brought back some memories for me.

I joined the Lloyds Bank staff in the now-closed St Mary Street, Cardiff, branch in November, 1943, having persuaded my parents to buy me out of school to earn some money (which turned out to be £1.10.6d. pw for usually a 48-hour week that included a large share of manual duties with no study leave!).

I was keen to play a small part in the war effort, especially as my mother who worked for the Red Cross Office in Cardiff had missed almost certain death when an incendiary bomb landed in her bed just seconds after she rose to proceed to the Anderson shelter in an air raid in January 1941. Fortunately, my father and I managed to heave the burning bed out of the house.

Following my National Service (serving in the Royal Signals in the Egyptian Canal Zone, Kenya, Somalia and what is now Ethiopia) on the very day I returned home on demobilisation, a letter arrived from the bank asking my father when I would be returning home.

I duly reported to my old branch and was told that to take a vacancy I must start work the following week. As my previous employment was on the temporary wartime staff, I was relieved to be offered a job which hopefully would lead to a permanent position. My 77 days leave at least brought me in more cash than my bank pay!

In the early 1950s, I was instructed to proceed to Barry Docks branch on relief duties and travelled by train to Barry Docks station with my friend and colleague the late Paddy Prosser, who was then on the staff at that branch.

The chief clerk informed me that I would be acting as cashier at the Barry sub branch, which I seem to recall was then half a shop adjoining Norman Alexander's practice in Broad Street.

This involved collecting some cash from the main branch and carrying this in a case duly chained to me, walking down Thompson Street and with my guard and clerk John Dickinson, wait for a Western Welsh bus in Holton Road to take us to Broad Street.

I was assured that I needed only a minimum amount of cash as the business in Barry was almost entirely shops and businesses paying money in, with very few withdrawals.

All went well until the Thursday of my first week and as the bus arrived in Broad Street I noticed quite a crowd of people waiting outside the bank. I asked John what was the reason for this and he told me it was 'Teachers' Pay Day'. I knew there was no way my cash reserve would be likely to meet the requirements of the teachers.

My clerk was unable to round up enough cash from the adjoining shop customers even though I gave priority to anyone paying in cash. As no telephone was provided, I despatched John to the nearby National Provincial Bank to ask them to telephone the parent branch requesting an urgent supply of extra cash.

Meanwhile, I managed to meet the early demands by paying out 'unfit' £1 and 10/- notes that were set aside for pulping. The teachers seemed quite happy to accept these rather filthy specimens rather than call back later. The episode went down as one of my most embarrassing moments!

In 1968, I was appointed manager of Barry Docks branch, by now housed in modern though initially inadequate accommodation for a rapidly expanding business. This problem was later solved by taking over the upper floor when this became available.

On moving from Thompson Street, the branch was firstly situated in 120, Holton Road, (which later became The Trustee Savings Bank) and around 1966/67 to the present building at 140b, Holton Road.

It is interesting to note that there were just four managers of the branch during the period from the late 1930s up until the date of my retirement in 1986.

The first of these was Mr HH Howell, a founder member and first president of the Rotary Club of Barry who, I'm told, when the bank sent a comptometer to the branch, promptly returned it on the grounds that his staff would lose their arithmetical ability.

Barry Docks branch was a pen-posted branch (hand-written ledgers and statements) until, I believe, the mid 1950s.

In the days of the Thompson Street office, the manager and his family lived in the floor above the banking hall and offices and I recall Mr Howell's wife Marie, who was still a customer of the branch during and after my retirement, was a lady of dignity and great character.

During the war years, she carried out helpful charitable work for the youngsters of the area and I understand was instrumental in establishing a social club to provide a safe meeting place for them.

She also involved herself in support for the many seamen of all races that lived in this colourful district. Mrs Howell enjoyed walking along Thompson Street as all the residents knew and respected her.

It was a sad time for her when she had to move away on 'HH's' retirement, even though she moved to live in a fine house in Llanishen, Cardiff.

JUST-MARRIED health care support worker Lisa Beckmann has Open University exams, plus the gala final of the care profession's most prestigious awards night to cope with this month.

German-born Lisa (28), who became Mrs James Taylor in July and has just returned from her honeymoon, has her Open University exams in health and social care at the beginning of the month, and is a nominated finalist at the Wales Care Awards later in the month.

The Wales Care Awards reward the best in the caring professions, and October 21 at Cardiff City Hall it is the care profession's 'Oscars' night. Lisa, of Cae Glas, Pencoed, Bridgend, a care sector worker for seven years, was nominated in the supported living care practitioner category by her manager at April Complete Care Solutions, Wendy Duckworth.

It recognises some of the outstanding work Lisa has done in caring for young people with severe disabilities.

"I started with April Complete Care Solutions in 2009 and I look after clients from Penarth to Neath," said Lisa.

Parents of the children Lisa cares for were quick to add their names to her nomination, to thank her for her outstanding work.

For one young boy with severe disabilities she went the extra mile. Her manager, Wendy Duckworth, explained: "The parents had tried all ways to try and encourage this young boy to identify his needs and wants, as he was unable to talk."

"Lisa did extensive research to help this little boy and his family. The parents were delighted with the progress their son has made due to Lisa's skill and determination."

Lisa added: "When I knew I had been nominated I thought 'Oh dear! I'm not very good in front of people, I'm very shy'. It was a bit of a shock."

Mario Kreft MBE, the honorary chief executive of Care Forum Wales, said the Wales Care Awards had gone from strength to strength.

He said: "The event is now firmly established as one of the highlights in the Welsh social care calendar. The aim is to recognise the unstinting and often remarkable dedication of our unsung heroes and heroines across Wales."

Taylor Wimpey and Costa Coffee submit plans for Cowbridge

TWO planning applications that could shape the future of Cowbridge have been submitted.

The first, which has been submitted by Taylor Wimpey, seeks to demolish the former school building and associated buildings at the Lower School Site on Town Mill Road.

It was recently announced that negotiations had been completed, and that Taylor

Wimpey now owns the site.

A spokesperson for Taylor Wimpey South Wales commented: "A planning application has been submitted to the Vale Council for the demolition of the old school, and is presently with the authority for determination."

"No commencement of demolition will take place until planning consent is granted for the redevelopment with residential dwelling, which is yet to be submitted."

The second application has been submitted by Costa Limited, which operates a national chain of coffee shops under the name 'Costa Coffee'.

The chain is seeking approval for modifications and alterations to the shop front, previously trading as Martins, and for "fascia and hanging signs to front elevation with external illumination".

AJ the DJ stars in BBC reality show

A BARRY DJ takes a starring role in a BBC reality show this Friday evening.

The show, 'Wales on Wheels', is being broadcast at 7.30pm on BBC One Wales and Adam John, better known locally as AJ, is shown entertaining the holidaymakers at Fontygary Caravan and Leisure Park.

AJ, aged 27, said: "There are four episodes of 'Wales on Wheels' and the one at Fontygary is the second."

"I was performing at the park over the weekend when the BBC turned up to film."

"The BBC made a bit of thing that I had cancelled the bingo for people, replacing it with me - in fact, the bingo was cancelled before I got there."

AJ is an entertainer, singer and DJ who worked at Bro Radio for two years.

He said: "I have seen the trailer for the show and I'm looking forward to watching it on Friday evening."

"The 'Wales on Wheels' theme in the episode is demonstrated by the caravan people at Fontygary."

"While I've been away, the shop has had a major re-vamp and is looking great."

"I'm also happy to announce that a second artist has now joined SOTA - Joe Phillips is a great all round tattooist and happy to take on any style of work."

Van stolen in house burglary

ABOVE: Have you seen this van?

DETECTIVES in the Vale are appealing following a burglary at a house in the Piccadilly area of Cowbridge.

Entry was gained to the detached premises via a front ground floor window sometime between 12 midday on Thursday, September 29 and 7.30pm on Sunday, October 2.

Stolen from the interior was a jewellery box which contained a number of watches, together with an assortment bracelets, earrings and necklaces, and from outside the premises a distinctive grey coloured Volkswagen Camper Van, registration number CN 59 DZA was stolen, which to date has not been recovered.

Prior to the burglary a male person was seen acting suspiciously in the area. He has been described as male white, mid 40's, pale complexion, clean shaven, and wearing a dark-coloured hooded top with the hood up, jeans, training shoes and was carrying a water bottle.

Officers are appealing to anyone with information to contact Police on 101 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111

Police offer 'proceeds of crime' cash to local groups

DONATIONS are now on offer to local groups - from cash and property recovered from criminals.

Applications are invited from clubs, organisations or groups who help reduce crime and anti-social behaviour, or who divert people away from crime.

The grants will be provided from the Police Property Act Fund, which the South Wales Police Authority is responsible for distributing.

A police spokeswoman said: "Property which comes into the possession of the police in connection with a crime, and where the owner cannot be found can be sold with the money being kept in what is known as the Police Property Act Fund.

"The same is true for property which has been forfeited by convicted persons by order of a court, as it was used or intended for use in a crime."

The chair of the Police Authority, Coun Russell Roberts, said: "The Police Authority is dedicated to helping small clubs and organisations across South Wales to help tackle the fear of crime."

Applications must be submitted by November 4. Forms and guidance can be obtained from the website at www.southwalespoliceauthority.org.uk. Alternatively, contact the authority directly on 01656 869366 or email to police.authority@south-wales.pnn.police.uk.

Penarth Computer Club: EXPLORING WINDOWS!

PENARTH Computer Club members were exploring Windows at their last meeting.

Steve told the meeting that most new PCs come with Windows pre-installed. He said everyone will want to tinker with the settings to personalise what they are looking at. It makes sense because everybody is different.

Windows is an operating system, which controls the way your computer works. It takes charge immediately you switch on, supervising any programmes set to run on start-up.

It puts little boxes ('windows') on the screen for various purposes. You can have several windows open at the same time and jump between them, or you can enlarge a single one to fill the entire screen.

To do big jobs such as writing your memoirs; taking care of household accounts or sending e-mails you use separate application programmes ('apps').

When you fire up your PC for the first time, Windows desktop (the screen you are looking at) will be set up for you in a generic way. People like to tweak this first to give their desktop a personal 'feel', even if it's just changing the desktop wallpaper to a photo of a loved one - but there are many more changes available."

Steve then had a ramble around what is changeable. In fact it is just about everything. To save making many individual changes, he showed that you could select from an infinite number of themes available for free download. These are collections of desktop pictures (wallpaper), sound schemes, mouse cursors, etc.

Accessibility features helpfully eliminate problems you might have with the keyboard:

• StickyKeys is useful for one-finger typists. StickyKeys allows you to press keys one at a time and still perform a key combination where two keys are supposed to be pressed at the same time.

• FilterKeys is useful if you have the habit of pressing keys for too long (which causes repeat keystrokes), or if you frequently press keys more than once when you type.

• ToggleKeys will cause your PC to alert you with a 'ding' every time you press the Caps Lock or Num Lock keys, because they are often pressed in error.

• Mouse Control Panel allows you to swap the left and right buttons (very useful for left-handers); adjust the sensitivity of mouse or mouse-wheel movement; alter the double-click speed, or find your on-screen cursor by pressing the CTRL key.

Microsoft issues frequent updates for Windows. Automatic updates should already be enabled and should remain so, but the timing of downloading or installing them is adjustable. Windows Firewall should also remain enabled to prevent unauthorised access from the internet, unless you have bought and installed an internet security package, which will supersede it.

New members were reassured not to be concerned about any bits they couldn't follow as they will become clearer in time. They were encouraged to explore the range of options and select the ones they like. Finding out is part of the fun and life will get easier.

The club next meets on Tuesday, October 11. I will explain the 'Golden Rules' and his 10 best hints and tips. Visitors welcome.

Youth flautists - new groups!

THE youth specialist flute ensemble 'Light Breeze' has been a great success - it rehearsed weekly during the school terms of 2007 and 2010.

It gave its premiere performance as part of the Cowbridge flute and harp recital in 2008, which helped to raise money for Ty Hafan Hospice and together with 'High Winds' flute ensemble, entertained the public with Christmas music in the Glanfa Foyer of the Cardiff Millennium Centre 2009.

In July 2010, 'Light Breeze' travelled to primary schools in the Vale and performed solos, Welsh and easy listening music with CD backing tracks and piano accompaniment.

Finally, in April 2011, to their credit, ex-members played alongside the BBC National Orchestra of Wales in the Cardiff Millennium Centre as part of the Arcomis Flute event.

Following Light Breeze's great success, Joyce Carter wants to establish a new or a series of new youth flute ensembles, depending on age and ability.

She is a qualified flute specialist with a diploma in flute teaching Licentiate of the Guildhall School of Music (LGSM) and is a qualified and experienced music teacher with a bachelor of education honours degree.

Joyce majored in performance management and has successfully taught GCSE music to years 10 and 11 students in many comprehensive schools throughout south Wales.

A massive 'thank you' from Nathan

NATHAN BEAVER wishes to express a huge thank you to the clients who have supported his new business venture.

Nathan's dog training business (K9 Leaders), addresses all behavioural problems; he also offers puppy and obedience training, together with assistance when choosing a new dog.

As a former reader, Nathan has now witnessed at first hand the business potential of THE GEM after receiving regular new business calls.

Many are obedience-related, but some are more challenging.

The owner of an American bulldog with a "people phobia" was astounded by the resultant change.

Nathan explains: "I like to do the training at the owners' homes, where in most cases the behaviour is at its worst, by instructing and demonstrating how to take back control."

"This gives them more confidence to handle

Eco-Week Hat Parade – As part of the School's eco-week activities the children (and parents) were asked to design and make an eco hat.

The response was fantastic and on Thursday afternoon last week they were presented to the school.

Everyone present was able to appreciate the amazing ideas and variety of designs, and also congratulate the winners of the competition, who were: Todd Hind, Megan Evans, Elisha Owen, Callum King, Molly Leyland, Joshua Jones, Jacob Hesketh, Lois Flower, Jack Joy, Niamh O'Halloran, Joshua Urch, Hannah Lewis, Ellie Griffiths and Mathew Leysion.

Inter school matches – On Friday, September 23, the School played away to West Park Primary School at netball and rugby. The 'A' rugby team again produced an excellent performance, scoring seven tries.

Luke Dingle produced another good performance scoring three tries and kicking seven conversions. The other tries came from Leon Jones (two) with Connor Morgan and Bradley Jenkins getting one apiece to record a fine, 49-7 win.

There was an improvement for 'B' team who drew their match at one try each, with Ben Evans scoring for the school.

The 'A', 'B' and 'C' netball teams have not started the season at all well this year, with all three losing their matches. The 'A' team played really well and were unlucky to lose 4-3 and although the 'B' and 'C' teams also lost, all the girls are really enjoying playing and are confident that they will start winning soon.

SCOPE Community Cafe and Companions Project

This is a new project for disabled people over the age of 50, started with the help of Lottery funding, by Scope at the Rees Centre in Kenfig Hill.

It will help older people who might live alone or be lonely to get out of their houses and meet other people. They will set up a community Cafe on one morning every week from 10am till 12 noon, serving teas, coffee, biscuits and cakes. They will not be doing any cooking but people will be able to take their own food if they want to. They can also use the luncheon club in the Talbot Community Centre or get sandwiches from Harry's. There will be regular events including arts and crafts and those attending will also be included in activities such as their 'Healthy Heart Project' which they are calling 'Calon Hapus', which means happy heart.

Volunteers are required to help out at the cafe, with the arts and crafts, and the Calon Hapus activities.

Volunteers will need to befriend older disabled people to help them go on courses, join groups, go to the cinema, bowling and other interesting activities.

As some people might need the help of more than one volunteer to get out and about, there will be plenty of chances of working together. Anyone who is interested in becoming a volunteer should contact Lynda at Scope as soon as possible as the project is set to start in November.

For further details of this project and the activities of Scope call in to the Rees Centre, which is located at the rear of the Talbot Community Centre, Prince Road, Kenfig Hill or telephone Lynda on 01656 741166.

Flood warning system starts for Nantymoel

PEOPLE living in Nantymoel, are set to benefit from a new free flood warning service, as part of Environment Agency Wales' Floodline Warnings Direct service.

The service, which will be available to properties in the area, will launch on Wednesday, October 26.

Residents at risk of flooding from watercourses in the village will be able to register to receive advance warning of flooding direct to their phone, or by text, email or pager.

Phil Pickersgill, south west Wales flood risk manager for Environment Agency Wales said: "Nantymoel has a history of flooding, but difficulties in forecasting and the speed at which the rivers in this location react, has meant it has been difficult to predict far enough in advance when flooding was likely to happen.

"However, advances in technology have improved our ability to issue warnings automatically.

"I would urge everybody to check whether their property is at risk of flooding by calling Floodline on 0845 988 1188 or visiting our website. Those people who are identified as living within the flood risk area are encouraged to take advantage of this new service."

Penybont lifesaving club cleans up beach

PENYBONT Surf Lifesaving Club cleaned up on the weekend with a mass car wash and a beach litter-pick.

On Saturday, club volunteers held a charity car wash in Bridgend and raised more than £400 in donations for new surf lifesaving equipment.

In scorching weather, both adults and children got stuck in, getting a bit wet and having fun cleaning the cars.

The club then teamed up with Keep Wales Tidy (KWT) on Sunday for a beach clean-up.

Ian Harvey, KWT officer said: "We asked Penybont lifeguards to help us with the Great Ogmere Challenge campaign. This three-day event involves volunteers and groups from around Bridgend, RCT and the Vale cleaning the river from source to sea.

"As well as cleaning the environment, we hope to raise awareness of the damage people do by dropping litter.

"Penybont lifeguards were keen to work with us on Sunday. I was impressed when more than 60 members came to lend a hand and collected more than two tonnes of rubbish. Their response was fantastic, and everyone was really enthusiastic and committed to cleaning the beach at Ogmere by Sea."

Mike Allen, Penybont Surf Lifesaving Club chairman said: "We were only too pleased when Keep Wales Tidy invited us to be involved in this important project.

"It gave us a chance to help protect our environment where we operate as a lifeguard club.

"Ogmere by Sea is particularly prone to attracting rubbish from three main sources – the river, Bristol Channel, and rubbish that people leave on the beach. We've had some of the largest tides of the year last week and that meant more rubbish on the beach. "Our members did a sterling job and collected everything from drink bottles to glass bottles."

More clean-up projects between KWT and Penybont lifeguards are planned for next year. Anyone interested in volunteering can contact Ian Harvey at KWT on 02920 726994.

The lessons were delivered by the languages department, along with expert help from colleagues from other departments, visiting retired colleagues and sixth form exchange students, making this a truly international event.

The art department focussed on Africa, with pupils making colourful masks representing different countries while the music department explored European themes in music.

Pupils also had the opportunity of preparing, cooking and eating a selection of tasty international dishes including Indian onion bhajees, Spanish tortillas and Italian bruschetta and meatballs.

European-themed quizzes were organised in other lessons and the Learning Resource Centre throughout the day.

Macmillan Coffee Morning

BARRY Comprehensive joined other schools and offices across the UK last Friday to support the Macmillan World's Biggest Coffee Morning.

Pupils, parents and staff contributed cakes which Sixth Form students sold to eager pupils at break time. Staff made and submitted a mouth-watering selection to the cake competition, which was judged by resident expert, Mr Tresilian.

The school also welcomed a number of special guests to the Learning Resource Centre to join in with the fundraising, including Alun Cairns MP, Jane Hutt AM and members of the Royal British Legion.

The coffee morning was great fun, and also raised £500 for the Macmillan charity.

A Diamond Celebration!

In 1951 a hugely popular and well-know retailer in Newport started life as an upholstery business in an Anderson shelter in The Gaer, Newport.

Within a short period of time this one-man operation, established by Richard Sheppard, expanded into a workshop with twenty men employed and then into a retail outlet on Commercial Road in the town.

By the late 60s, 1968 to be precise, Richard Sheppard invested in a new premises – the former Paul's Builder's Merchants, which is now the furniture department store we all know as George Street Furnishers.

The original concept for what was then called George Street Warehouse was an outlet where people could buy top brand furniture at low prices. Having moved from its position on the main shopping street of Commercial Road, George Street Furnishers became one of the town's first 'out of town' stores – and quickly grew in both reputation and popularity. The unique position of the warehouse made for easy expansion allowing the Sheppard family to develop the store from a warehouse to its current form – a one-stop store for the whole home.

Around thirty years ago Richard's sons Martyn and Graham became involved in the business, taking it over and moving it forward. As the store expansion continued the selection of fantastic products available grew, with George Currently employing fifty people locally, this family business continues to hold strong, developing even through the current tough economic times and planning ahead for the future. The third generation of the Sheppard family are now becoming involved in the business with Martyn and Graham's sons Adam, Luke, Joseph and Jared all active in various capacities.

George Street Furnishers caters beautifully for all shoppers, from first-time buyers looking for flooring products. George Street Furnishers really is a one-stop shop when it comes to furnishing your home.

So what is the secret to this fantastic local store's sixty years of success? "Throughout its life, since its days as an upholstery business to now, George Street Furnishers has been focused on offering a quality personal service with excellent customer care and after-sales service," says Martyn Sheppard.

"I strongly believe that it's this concept that now sees us furnishing the homes of up to three generations of some families."

October 8 and 9 will see George Street Furnishers celebrate its 60th anniversary in true style. The whole weekend will be dedicated to the celebration with a host of special offers in store and lots of giveaways, including a £1000 in store gift voucher up for grabs.

With delivery available before Christmas on most products, this weekend could be the perfect time to treat your home to that new piece, while celebrating the fantastic achievement of one of the city's longest-established retailers.

Mixed martial arts drama packs a physical and emotional punch

IN 2002, the crew of the Starship Enterprise embarked upon another adventure in Star Trek: Nemesis, which featured a young Jean Luc Picard, played by an unknown thespian called Tom Hardy.

The film's lack of success (it is the only film I have ever walked out of!) saw the young Brit build up his resume in little-seen low-budget films or on television, no doubt awaiting a breakthrough role which would show off his undoubted talent.

If the 2008 double whammy of RocknRolla and Bronson merely reaffirmed Hardy's abilities (the latter being an incendiary performance), then last year's Inception proved to be his Hollywood breakthrough.

Due to team up with Christopher Nolan again in the final part of the director's Batman trilogy next year as the villainous Bane, Hardy appears to be on the right track career-wise, and he pops up on the big screen now in Warrior.

The film tells the story of two estranged brothers, Tommy (Hardy) and Brendan (Joel Edgerton), whose lives have not panned out as they planned.

The former is a ball of anger, asking for fight training from his estranged father (Nick Nolte) but with no desire to rekindle familial relationships, while the latter is a school teacher with financial worries, resorting to fighting in car parks to make money.

When the pair independently decide to enter a mixed martial arts tournament, they are on crash course to make their history come out into the open...

Given the rise of mixed martial arts through the likes of Strikeforce and, most notably, UFC, it isn't all that surprising that Hollywood has decided to make a film out of it.

It is similarly unsurprising that they have broken out the traditional sports film template with which to showcase the fighting action – yet, while this could have been a by-the-numbers sports film that follows the usual road, Warrior somehow manages to make itself stand out from the crowd.

Yes, it most certainly isn't a departure from your usual underdog sports film, but it does throw in enough variants to the regular mix to keep things interesting.

Whereas you usually have your one primary rootable lead, here you have two, both of whom manage to elicit sympathy from the audience (although Hardy's is the less clear cut of the pair).

In fact, the family dynamic is the key ingredient in the film, taking it beyond the usual pattern and offering something deeper for you to chew on.

Co-writing alongside Anthony Tambakis and Cliff Dorfman, director Gavin O'Connor is on familiar turf here, having previously directed ice hockey drama Miracle and having co-written and directed family drama Pride and Glory. His knowledge of both the sports film dynamic, along with the familial relationship angle pays dividends, managing to mesh the two elements together without either one losing impact.

While the sports element does have a degree of predictability about it, as the tournament goes on you become more intrigued by the possible outcomes and the impact they have upon the characters, both realising defeat will be curtains for their respective dreams, while the family element is well served by offering no easy solutions and striving for reality without reverting to the cheesy pay-offs that so often appear in these films.

Similarly, the performances help to sell the reality of the story, with both Edgerton and Hardy in the leads offering some wonderful turns. Certainly, Hardy has the more difficult of the two, his character layered and far more sketched in than Edgerton's luckless teacher, but his performance is watchable and engaging, a tightly wound spring uncoiling only when inside the octagon, as his opponents discover.

Meanwhile Edgerton (who eagle-eyed Star Wars fans will recognise as the young Uncle Owen from Attack of the Clones) shows how under-rated an actor he is with a performance that could have slipped into mawkish sentimentality as the man trying to help his family survive, but is giving grit and steel by the actor in a turn that should singpost him as an actor of some renown.

Completing the triumvirate of excellent performances is Nick Nolte as the pair's reformed alcoholic father, whose past with his kids threatens to ruin any hope he has of building a relationship with them. For an actor prone to chowing down his performances with a side of ham, Nolte has rarely been better in recent years, the fragility of a man who realises he can't make amends for past mistakes etched all too clearly on his face.

If the overall predictability of the story is a touch too much, such is its devotion to convention, then the up-in-the-air ending, nuanced direction and top performances elevate this from being your run of the mill sporting movie; as it is, Warrior packs a mighty punch.

VERDICT - Predictable yet gloriously engaging and watchable, Warrior transcends its genre origins to become a film that adds gravitas to the subject matter. With Gavin O'Connor's direction both gritty and focused, and Tom Hardy, Joel Edgerton and Nick Nolte delivering top performances, Warrior is a truly superb film.

Highly recommended.

Mr Phil Whitcombe, Headteacher is absolutely delighted with the current academic performance of the pupils. In the last year there has been yet another significant rise in the numbers of pupils gaining 5 or more A* to C grade at GCSE level, which now stands at 69%, 25% above CAT Targets.

The GCSE results have risen by 28% in the last 7 years and the school has exceptionally high value added, performance at the highest benchmark levels at all Key Stages and is well ahead of Vale and National targets for similar schools.

This year, over 40% of the pupils gained at least 10 top grade GCSEs with the most successful gaining 14 GCSEs. This marks another outstanding year of examination success for the pupils of Bryn Hafren.

Curriculum:

Bryn Hafren offers a rich, broad and balanced curriculum with lessons being taught in modern high specification rooms. The school has recently refurbished many areas including Science Laboratories, ICT suites, the Art Department, Food Technology and Learning Resource Centre. Recent building additions include a Hair and Beauty suite and an Astro Turf area. The curriculum has further been enhanced by the addition of Wider Key Skills at KS3, giving pupils an equivalent of 2 GCSEs at grade B. The Welsh Baccalaureate is studied in KS4 and KS5, giving the pupils additional and vital qualifications as they move into further education or employment. The provision of extra curricular activities is an outstanding feature of the school and extends pupils' learning experiences.

Pastoral Care:

The school is very proud of the pastoral care given to all pupils. We strive to create a happy, working atmosphere where all pupils are valued and encouraged to fulfil their potential. The Year Heads and Form Tutor system offers good support and guidance in a caring community. Progress is monitored and individual pupils are encouraged to achieve academic success in a fully inclusive environment. The school works closely with parents via Form Tutor and Parents' Evenings through the year. In addition the school welcomes individual contact with parents as required.

Science – One of the newly refurbished Science Laboratories

Astro Turf, Fitness Suite and Pool – Bryn Hafren's sporting facilities are outstanding.

Residential experiences include language and culture courses as well as outdoor pursuits. Pupils recently visited Mt Vesuvius, Sorrento, Italy.

Awards ceremony – All pupils are regularly rewarded for good attendance, effort improvement and excellence in lessons.

ICT suite – A huge investment in ICT has created excellent opportunities for all pupils.

The King and I – The Performing Arts Department produced a highly successful production of the King and I, pupils in all year groups were involved. The production gained the school the best overall youth production in South Wales at the Glammie Awards.

The Learning Resource Centre is available for pupil use before school, break and lunchtimes as well as after school.

School's fun language day!

PUPILS at Bryn Hafren School marked the school's language day by getting well-and-truly into the spirit of things.

They arrived at school in a variety of national costumes, and did all they could to capture the spirit of their chosen country.

Many of those choosing Spain came dressed to take lessons in flamenco dancing, while the French contingent favoured the traditional Breton striped shirt and a beret.

Of course, to be really French they could have emulated the rugby team and spent the day arguing with their coach!

"I am inspired by writers like Tolkien and David Gemmell, but I have also had people that don't usually read this genre tell me they were hooked," said Anthony.

He will be at Barry Library talking about and signing copies of Whispers of a Storm between 10.30am and 12 noon, and 1pm-2.30pm on Tuesday, October 11.

Barry's famous THOMPSON STREET is set for a new era

Safer, brighter – and with help for those using scooters and wheelchairs REDEVELOPMENT ACCENTUATES POSITIVES OF ICONIC STREET

THERE was a time in the middle of the last century when the Thompson Street area of

Barry was a vibrant, hectic location populated with shops, bars and social clubs, and peopled by townsfolk, seamen and dockers.

But times change, and now it is more residential and business in nature.

A £1million facelift has given one of the town's most famous thoroughfares a new lease of life.

Although some people have questioned the wisdom of such a large investment in one street, local businesses and residents are adamant that 'their' time had come.

One such resident, June Colomb, said the work was welcome and long overdue.

June, who has lived in Thompson Street and Dunlin Court for the last 31 years, and whose four children were born during that time, said: "It was high time they updated the place. What we have now is a brighter, modern 21st century look."

"It is a proper link for people coming over the bridge from the Waterfront into the town, and for those who need to go across the bridge from town to the doctors' surgery."

June can remember back to the sixties when the bars and clubs in the area included the Chain Locker, The Buffs Club, The Seaman's Rest, the Coronation Club, and the Blue Cafe.

In those days, people claimed it was Barry's answer to Cardiff's Tiger Bay.

However, June is not one to dwell on the past and insisted that the investment was well worthwhile.

"The new lighting gives a more secure feel and the improvements in the pavements will help those using scooters and wheelchairs," she said.

"It was time for something to be done and now it looks tidier and more up-to-date."

Few people over the last 100 years could have had more of an investment in Thompson Street than the Frangoulis family.

Nick Frangoulis, who owns the shoe repair shop at the top end of Thompson Street near Holton Road, and is chairman of the local traders, said: "My father established the company 61 years ago."

"We have put our faith in the area and the community."

"The refurbishment of Thompson Street has been a long time coming and should, in fact, have been done before the start of work at the Waterfront – after all, it is a gateway into the town.

"Now, with the bridge, there is a proper link between the Waterfront and town."

Mel Bonner of Barry Satellite Telecraft said the work had boosted the look of the local environment: "The whole street looks a lot tidier and I'm pleased with the finished look. Previously, it had appeared a bit messy, but as you look down the street it is a lot neater."

The local councillor Chris Elmore said he hoped the upgrade would provide a boost for local business people.

"I know that having spoken to business people, they have been waiting for quite a time to see this development, and hope that in the long term there will be benefits for them," he said.

Eileen Moore, the manager of the local drop-in centre, agreed that the pristine look would attract new interest in the area.

"I think it will increase the footfall and encourage more shoppers and investors," she said.

Eileen added that local volunteers still planned to add planters to Thompson Street, adding to the trees that have already been planted on the opposite side from the new street lights.

One question that people are now asking is: What will happen to the building currently housing the magistrates' court?

It is due to close on December 16, and among the suggestions The GEM has received for its future use have been an arts centre, a cinema and a venue for local dance groups.

Dancing queen Wendy hopes to waltz away with top care award

A SALSA enthusiast from Barry is hoping to hit the right notes with the judges of a prestigious awards scheme.

Wendy Harvey has been shortlisted for one of the 2011 Wales Care Awards, organised by Care Forum Wales to highlight excellence in the caring profession.

The awards will be presented at a ceremony in City Hall, Cardiff, on October 21, and Wendy is a finalist in the category for Commitment to Training and Workforce Development.

For the past four years she has been care supervisor for All Care (South Wales), and since completing the 'Train the Trainer' course in 2008, has been the group's training officer, a role which gives her much satisfaction.

For several years Wendy, of Mountbatten Road, Barry, worked in the retail sector but as her daughter grew older she fancied becoming a nurse, an ambition which she wasn't able to realise when her second child was born.

Instead, she became a carer seven years ago, joining All Care after three years.

She was nominated for the award by her manager – and salsa partner – Emma James, who said she had created quite an impression with colleagues and service-users.

"Having worked alongside Wendy on numerous occasions I have witnessed her delivering care in a very dignified manner," she said. "She always focuses on people's abilities rather than their disabilities and continually promotes independence."

"She is highly thought of among her supervisors due to her caring and understanding approach to all problems faced by our staff," she added.

As part of her training role, Wendy has emphasised the importance of treating service-users with dignity, an issue high on the agenda of the Welsh Assembly Government.

Her nomination was supported by Amanda Heathfield, who joined All Care in 2010 and benefited from Wendy's training and supervision.

"When Wendy took me out into the community for the first time she was great," wrote Amanda. "She made me feel at ease while still maintaining excellent professionalism."

Wendy said she derived great satisfaction from seeing the newcomers progress and gain in confidence through the mentoring stage to coping on their own.

Mario Kreft MBE, the honorary chief executive of Care Forum Wales, said the Wales Care Awards had gone from strength to strength.

He said: "The aim is to recognise the unstinting and often remarkable dedication of our unsung heroes and heroines across Wales."

"The care sector is full of wonderful people because it's not just a job it's a vocation – these are the people who really do have the X Factor."

Vale MP champions college as leader in special needs provision

ALUN CAIRNS, MP for the Vale, last week visited Beechwood College, which helps to improve the lives of those with learning disabilities.

He was given a guided tour of the new facilities at the college, which is Wales' first and only specialist residential college of further education for students over the age of 16 years with an autistic spectrum condition (ASC) or Asperger's Syndrome.

Following the national art competition, 'Create! Art for Autism', which ran from March to June, Beechwood College is holding an exhibition in London from October 15-21 to showcase the outstanding artwork from the competition finalists. As part of his commitment to Beechwood College, Mr Cairns will attend the exhibition and show his support for their creativity campaign.

Darren Jackson, the principal of Beechwood College, said: "Parliamentary engagement is a key part of our national strategy to raise awareness for autism provision. "As well as being our local MP, Alun Cairns has a huge amount of enthusiasm for improving the lives of those with autism and we're excited about his support for our work in the future."

New crematorium is opened in Barry

THE Vale Of Glamorgan Memorial Park and Crematorium opened on October 3 at Port Road East on the outskirts of Barry.

Lyndsay Ellis of Park Independent Funeral Directors said the new facility would spare bereaved families in Barry and other areas of the Vale a long journey to Bridgend or north Cardiff.

"I have recently visited the crematorium on various occasions, and witnessed the change from start to finish over the past few months, prior to the opening."

"The transformation has been amazing. The crematorium creates a sense of reflection and offers tranquil surroundings for families, so that loved ones can be given the send-off they deserve.

"In the past, the time to go to Coychurch Crematorium or Thornhill could take in excess of 45 minutes."

"To be able to travel to Port Road East will alleviate the stress and time added to a funeral."

The crematorium is technologically advanced, providing a webcam so that family members who cannot attend the funeral are able to watch from a different location.

There are also two large LCD screens, which can be used for photographs and a slideshow of a loved one during funeral services.

Mr Ellis added: "This is something that the Vale has needed for a long time and thanks to Memoria Crematoria it has now happened."

Barry Bees shine

ON a blistering October morning, Barry Bees under-9s travelled to Rhiwbina for a three-match round robin.

The first match was evenly contested with good defence from both sides.

Barry forced the pace and twice took the lead with tries from Cole

Saunders and Seb Fahiya, but Rhiwbina responded well and the game finished 2-2.

The second match was against another strong Rhiwbina team; Barry conceded an early try, which set the pattern.

Tries from Reece Lloyd and James Chapman kept Barry in the game, but they were always playing catch up and lost 4-2.

The Bees saved their best performance for the final game against a good Rumney team.

The Barry defence was dominant and excellent tackling put them on top.

With another try from Seb and two from Cole, Barry finished deserved 3-1 winners. JM

AN exhibition of work inspired by an artist's love of trees is going on show in Barry.

Eileen Allan's exhibition, Treescape, will open at the Travellers Gallery in the town on Monday, October 17.

Eileen has loved trees since childhood, and since moving to South Wales in 1967, Porthkerry Woods near Barry have inspired many of her drawings and paintings, which have been shown widely in the UK and abroad.

Her tree drawings are not 'sketches', but dynamic works that analyse the structures found in nature. The drawings have then inspired many of her paintings and mixed media works. Eileen said: "The rhythmic energy of growth and the disintegration of decay are all visual elements I seek to express in my drawing and painting."

The exhibition at the gallery in Barry Station, Broad Street, is open mornings, Monday to Friday, until November 24.

The Travellers Gallery exhibition programme is run in partnership by Mind in the Vale and VOGA (Vale of Glamorgan Artists).

For details contact Mind in the Vale on 01446 730792, or go to www.mindinthevale.org.uk or www.voga.org.uk.

LOCAL people are invited to join the wardens for an action-packed 'geocache day' at council-run Kenfig National Nature Reserve on Sunday, October 9.

The day will consist of a hi-tech treasure hunt with the aid of GPS systems or hand-held devices such as smart phones, in which players will try to locate hidden containers, called geocaches, using GPS-enabled devices and then share their experiences online.

A spokeswoman explained: "Geocaching uses two recent technologies, Global Positioning Systems (GPS) and the internet. A typical cache is a small waterproof container and inside you will discover your 'treasure', which usually consists of some small gifts. You can take a gift and then leave one of your own.

"Geocaching dates back to 2000 when the first cache was hidden. Since then it's become a hugely popular hobby and even more accessible with the invention of the smart phone, with caches being hidden all over the country from rocky countryside ridges to nooks and crannies in city centers.

"With a huge presence online, geocaching is an activity growing in popularity. There are more than five million geocachers worldwide in more than 100 countries around the world and on all seven continents, including Antarctica."

Bridgend school signs up for a new 'green' outlook

AS reported in last week's GEM, pupils from Brynteg School went green on Thursday as they raised a flag marking the beginning of a new 'green' era.

The school has registered for The Co-operative's Green Schools Revolution programme, a new green initiative which will see practical environmental studies brought to life inside and outside of the classroom. Mike Ash-Edwards, the regional secretary for The Co-operative Wales, said: "There is clearly a huge appetite for learning about eco-issues among children and our programme is designed to satisfy that. "It is packed with free school trip ideas, lots of lesson plans, and green activity ideas to do at home as well."

The Co-operative's Green Schools Revolution is a new sustainability education programme available free to all schools in the UK.

He explained: "I enjoy the thrill of playing the larger arenas such as the O2, but also the interaction of audiences in the smaller venues."

Chris is a songwriter, composer and producer, who works with his own band and for his brother.

He wrote the music for Peter Andre's last hit Mercy On Me.

COWBRIDGE COMPREHENSIVE SCHOOL SPORTS ROUND-UP

School pupils, both present and past – are enjoying great sporting success

NETBALL

YEAR-8 and 9 netball teams played their first games of the season against Stanwell away on Wednesday, September 21.

On a windy afternoon, both teams got off to slow starts, taking a while to adapt their game to cope with the weather conditions.

Overhead passes went astray and were easily intercepted by Stanwell.

At half-time, the year-8 team were just ahead 2-1 and the year-9 team were losing 2-4.

In the second half, the year-8 Cowbridge girls focused on short, sharp passes and only coming forward for the ball, resulting in far fewer mistakes, and Cowbridge quickly took the lead to 3-1.

Excellent defence from Ffion Vickers and Sashini Jayasinghe prevented the Stanwell attack really getting into the game, and well converted shots by Lucy Housley and Olivia Jones enabled Cowbridge to extend their lead.

Seren Allin at WA, Maya Bell at C and Jemma Viney at WD ensured the game remained composed and Cowbridge secured a strong 7-3 win. Well done girls.

Player of the match went to Seren Allin.

After a shaky start to their first half, the year-9 girls came out fighting and Emily Davies at GS secured the first goal of the half for Cowbridge.

Solid defence from Hannah Lister-Sims at GD, Rebecca Thomas at GK and Sally Gambling at WD ensured that Cowbridge kept possession and Kim Jerwood at GA stretched the score to 4-4.

Megan McNamee at C and Ellie Hicks at WA provided some excellent linking court play and feeds into the circle for the shooters, and a solid performance from the whole team enabled Cowbridge to forge ahead and secure a 6-5 win.

An impressive comeback, well done girls.

Player of the match went to Kim Jerwood.

Under-16 trials – Congratulations to Caitlin Allin and Liz Whitehouse who were selected at the under-16 county netball trials.

They will now face final selection at the first county training sessions; good luck girls!

The year-10 and 11 teams began their season against St Richard Gwyn on Monday, September 26, and got off to a strong start.

The year-11s forged ahead in the first half with excellent turnovers from Caitlin Allin, Bethan Sloan and Nadine Jaysinghe in defence, ensuring Nancie Edwards at GS and Mairi Boxall at GA could capitalise on their shots. Cowbridge led 9-2 at half-time.

In the second half, Liz Whitehouse at C and Anna Wynne at WA provided excellent feeds into the shooters and controlled the game well to ensure Cowbridge maintained their lead.

Cowbridge finished the game winning 18-4. The year-10s also started strongly, only conceding one goal in the first half and scoring 12 themselves.

Excellent linking play between Jo Wilkins at GA and Lydia Hitchings at GS ensured St Richard Gwyn was kept out of the game.

In the second half, solid defence from Sarah Lewis at GK and Olivia Brown at GD prevented the St Richard Gwyn shooters from really getting into the game and the score finished 22-4 to Cowbridge. An impressive win.

Player of the match: Year-11 Caitlin Allin.

HOCKEY
THE year-9 hockey team played Bro Morgannwg for their first game of the season at home on Thursday, September 15.

The Bro Morgannwg girls got off to a strong start, forcing Cowbridge to defend solidly for the first 10 minutes, with goalkeeper Hannah Lee making vital saves.

Cowbridge settled into the second 10 minutes well, with some excellent linking play from Hannah Lister-Sims in midfield through to Ellie-Eddy Williams in attack, enabling her to cross the ball to Rosa Hartman, coming in from the right wing to score.

In the third quarter of the match, some team changes saw Emily Davies come on into defence and Evie Williams into attack. Emily worked solidly in the defensive line and clear the ball to the wings, enabling Evie Williams to capitalise and score Cowbridge's second goal.

In the final quarter, Bro Morgannwg came back fighting and again the defence of Shelley May, Alice Tudor and Caitlin Jones were tested. Excellent work rate and defence from Millie Green in mid-field enabled the Cowbridge team to hold on until the last two attacks, when Bro Morgannwg finally proved too strong and snuck a goal in.

The game finished 2-1 to Cowbridge. A great win, well done girls!

Player of the match: Millie Green.

Senior – The senior hockey team played against Brynteg on September 21. There were two hat-tricks for Katie Howson and Molly Llewellyn.

Bethan Moorcraft in defence did well to clear the ball, and Laura Howells also had a solid game, taking the ball from defence to attack. The game finished at 6-0.

Team: Georgina Jackson, Bethan Moorcraft, Lowri Davies, Amy Taylor, Laura Howells, Sophie Dando, Katie Howson, Molly Williams, Flori Davies, Molly Llewellyn, Laura Smith, Molly Sander, Emily Hopkins and Montserrat Bray.

The year-8 hockey team played their first hockey match of the season in the blistering hot weather against Howells on their grass pitch.

The girls, not being used to it, struggled with their passing throughout the game.

Howells attacked well from the first whistle and scored an early goal.

During the first half, Howells did not give Cowbridge's attack any ball, Hetty Breed played brilliantly in goal, saving many more shots. Megan Duncombe also played well getting the ball out of defence but the opposition always managed to intercept.

Howells scored a late goal in the first half so at half-time, the score was 2-0.

In the second half, Cowbridge attack had more chances but the Howells sweeper was very strong and only once allowed Jemma Viney a shot on goal which their goalie saved.

Again, Hetty, Megan and Sophia Harpin played excellently in defence, however, Howells managed to score two more goals, making the final score 4-0.

Players of the match: Hetty Breed and Sophia Harpin.

CROSS COUNTRY
THE first cross country event in the Cardiff and Vale league took place at Bryn Hafren in true cross country conditions (wet!).

In year-7, Lowri Morgan had an excellent race and came in first for Cowbridge and seventh overall, closely followed by Sanant Emyr in ninth, Sophie Oddy came 17th, Selina Radcliffe 37th, Jasmine Emery 43rd, Esme Freeman 44th to complete the A team.

Also competing:

Charlotte Bunney 47th, Rhianon Medlicott 53rd, Molly Gambling 78th and Megan Roberts 92nd. A great first cross country for the year-7s.

In the year 8 and 9 race, Seren Allin (year-8) continued her success in the Cardiff and Vale League and came home first by a clear margin.

Second home for Cowbridge was Nadine James (year-9) in an excellent 4th place and Ela Emyr (year-9) in 12th and Rebecca Thomas (year-9) in 14th, to complete the team Cerys Bradshaw (year-8) and Alice Tudor (year-9) came 27th and 28th respectively.

Other positions were Tilly Hall (year-9) 38th, Ffion Vickers (year-9) 41st, Alicia Thomas (year-8) 42nd, Brooke Langton Cryer (year-9) 49th, Jemma Viney (year-8) 52nd, Eleanor Hicks (year-9) 64th, Niamh Jenkins (year-8) 71st, Sally Gambling (year-9) 82nd and Eleanor Farr (year-8) 112th.

In the senior race (year-10-13) Fiona Bray in year-12 was first home for Cowbridge in seventh place, followed by Miriam Bennett (year-11) in 18th, Jessica Jaques (year-11) in 20th, Rachel Bradshaw (year-12) in 28th, Rebecca John (year-11) 42nd, Ffion Hopkin (year-10) in 54th and Megan Langton Cryer (year-10) in 56th place.

A great first cross country for all the Cowbridge girls with league two at Trelai Park on October 18.

The boys cross country season got off to a fine start at Trelai Park on a Tuesday evening.

In glorious conditions, the school took teams from year-7, year 8/9 and seniors respectively. In the year-8 and 9 race, top school finisher Alex Love came an impressive 11th. He was closely followed by Rian Thomas 15th, Kristian Jones 23rd, Dewi Bennett 30th and Sean Davies 50th. Year-8 pupil Cai Evans finished 93rd and Nicholas Rees came in 129th.

With a massive field of more than 140 pupils, these were an impressive set of results from the Cowbridge pupils.

The senior race saw Cowbridge once again field one of the largest number of pupils of all Cardiff and Vale schools.

Matt Sullivan placed 24th, Connor Wyatt 49th, Jason Sami 52nd, James Williams 62nd, Stewart Fleming 66th and a return to cross country for Elliott Mears saw him placed 70th.

Just over 100 pupils ran in this race and other Cowbridge finishers included Tom Kamal 86th, Chris Powell 101st and Rafi Shazard 102nd.

The school would like to thank all pupils for their continued support and participation. Well done boys!

RUGBY – TWO TRIES FOR LLOYD!

WHAT an awesome week it has been for former Cowbridge Comprehensive pupil Lloyd Williams and his family.

Lloyd came off the bench for Wales for the final 20 minutes of the World Cup game against Namibia and capped a fantastic performance with a fine try.

He went on to score a second against Fiji.

After the Namibia game, with more than 100 year-7 pupils crammed into the PE teaching room during lesson 1 on Monday, Mr Thomas and Mr Hopkins decided that this would be an ideal opportunity for the pupils to experience some much-needed video analysis.

The noise from AIL was deafening as Lloyd came on to the pitch to make his world cup debut. After witnessing an outstanding performance from Lloyd, many of the pupils left the room with new hopes and expectations that they could one day replicate their new idol; what a wonderful example Lloyd has set all of our pupils.

He and brother Tom can often be seen putting in hours of hard work on the Cowbridge fields, perfecting skills under the watchful eye of proud father and former British Lion, Brynmor Williams.

This story clearly highlights that with a positive attitude, hard work and determination, you can achieve all of your dreams.

Well done Lloyd! Everyone associated with Cowbridge Comprehensive School is extremely proud of you and we wish you good luck for the rest of the tournament.

Year-7 and 8 rugby teams both got off to a winning start.

The year-7s and 8s played their first rugby of the year, and both got off to a winning start. Llantwit Major was the first test for both teams, and the school is proud to say they passed with flying colours.

The year-7s won 49-0, and played extremely well in their first game as a team.

All players tried their best, worked hard, and it was brilliant to see so many boys turn up and play for the school team.

The year-8s won 50-

22 and it was clear to see that they had really gelled last year in year-7, and are progressing into a strong team.

As was the case with the year-7s, it was extremely encouraging to see more than 25 boys turn up and play for the school team.

Well done year-7 and 8, keep on attending training and working hard, and I'm sure this will be the first win of many!

CRICKET

THE school staff team entertained touring team Whitminster Cricket Club from Gloucestershire last weekend.

Unfortunately, the new pitch on the new site was not ready, so the game was played at the cattle market pitch, where the grass in the outfield was rather long.

This did not detract from a very close game as Whitminster batted first, scoring 113 for 9 with wickets shared by Mr Chris Cox (two), Mr Duncan Jones (two), Mr Charles Pleasants (two) and Mr Glan Williams.

The highlight of the staff fielding performance was of director of cricket, Mr Gareth Evans with three top class stumpings.

In reply, the staff got off to a poor start, losing Dan Lewis, Hugh Williams and Gethin Davies early on, but Tom Francis and Mr Steve McQuade repaired the damage with a partnership to finish on 98 for 8.

Hopefully, next year Whitminster will have the opportunity of playing at the new school.

The school First XI cricket team have won a special award for cricket, to be presented at the XL Club 75th anniversary dinner to be held at the Savoy Hotel London on October 14.

The award covers the whole of Wales as one of the 14 districts in Britain.

The Forty Club District Shield is awarded to Cowbridge Comprehensive School as the only comprehensive school that plays against this club in Wales.

This is for the manner that the players play the game and to the high standard that they have achieved for many years, developing international, county and top level cricketers.

Adam Wood (captain) and Glan Williams will attend this 75th anniversary dinner at the Savoy Hotel to collect the award.

Well done to all players over many years that have contributed to this special award.

THE monthly meeting of the Glamorgan Farmers' Golf Society, held last Thursday at Morlais Castle Golf Club near Merthyr, attracted 37 competitors, all trying their best to return home with one of the many excellent prizes supplied by the day's sponsors, Arthur John & Co Ltd of Cowbridge.

Unfortunately, the 'Castle' at Morlais built in the year 1270 by Gilbert de Clare, Earl of Gloucester, is now just a ruin, with only part of the walls still visible, and these are adjacent to the fairway of the third hole.

The course itself offers magnificent views over the Brecon Beacons National Park and, in particular, Pen y Fan, the highest peak in southern Britain, standing at 2,907 feet above sea level.

The sight of the Brecon railway steam train meandering through the woods towards the Pontcilll Reservoir was another reason for members to remember their visit to this most hospitable of clubs.

Society president Geraint Davies, however, was not one to allow the many distractions to affect his concentration and remained focused throughout, trying to win for the first time, after trying for 25 years, the Arthur John & Co Cup.

His final score of 33 points was good enough to see off the challenge of Ray Howells, who finished runner-up also with 33.

In third place with 30 points was Mike King, whose back nine score of 18 points proved just enough to see off the challenge of Neil McLean who also finished with 30 points.

Guest has top score of the day

YOUNG David Taylor easily won the guests section when returning 36 points, with Gareth Perkins finishing runner-up with 30. Rhyddian Harris, with 29, finished third.

Also playing in this section was Martin McGranahan, a guest of Clive Edwards. Martin's only other appearance with the society was more than 20 years ago when invited by Clive's father Griff Edwards.

Martin was delighted to return home to Portsmouth with the Premier Turf sponsored bottle of whisky when correctly guessing 50 balls would come to rest somewhere on this mountain top course, which at the same time raised £64 for the Macmillan Nurses charity.

Nearest the pin on the par three holes were Keith Davies, Ray Howells and Neil McLean, while Julian Kelly hit the longest drive of the day to collect the 'James Hog Roasts' sponsored prize.

Society members are now looking forward to the annual 54-hole competition for The David Evans (Agriculture) Ltd trophy taking place this weekend which includes playing at Exeter, Torquay and Thurstlestone.

LAST-MINUTE SHOCK FOR PORTHCAWL

TONNA PORTHCAWL

IT was injury time heartbreak for the Seaweeds on Saturday as Tonna stole the result by the narrowest of margins.

It all started so well for Porthcawl as in their first attack, they moved to within striking distance, giving wing Sean Simmonds the chance to saunter over in the corner for the opening try, his fourth in three matches.

With the front row of the returning Dai Saines, Steve Phillips and Jamie Fry working their socks off at the scrums, and James Wheatley securing good lineout ball, Porthcawl's lighter pack supplied a steady stream of possession for Mathew Roberts to get his backs moving.

However, it was the home side that took advantage the better as they posted two penalties and an easy corner try following sustained pressure, and at 11-5 down Porthcawl needed to make some headway before the break.

This came via the Seaweeds' pack, which found a huge heave to force the Tonna pack back over its own line, hooker Steve Phillips getting the pushover try.

Lloyd Giles' excellent conversion made it 11-12 to Porthcawl at half-time.

The second half started in the worst fashion for Porthcawl with indiscipline allowing Tonna the chance to take the lead with a penalty for 14-12, only to be followed by a converted try that gave Porthcawl a greater hurdle to overcome, as at 21-12 and two scores adrift, Porthcawl's wasted possession saw chances squandered.

Giles did pull back a penalty for 21-15, and with Tevita Manaseitava and Phil Booth on to bolster the cause, the Porthcawl backs did their level best to attack from deep at every opportunity against a dogged home defence.

It seemed that the match was slipping from Porthcawl's grasp as time ebbed away but with injury time now entered, centre Jon Rimmer scythed through powerfully for a crucial try and it all rested on Giles' conversion kick.

From wide out, his effort shaved the posts and the final whistle blew to announce the home victory for Tonna.

It was all very disappointing for Porthcawl who let the game get away and there will be chances to make amends on Saturday when Birchgrove visit South Road in the first round of the WRU Cup.

The junior section is currently looking for additional players for the under-10s and under-11s. Training is on Wednesdays at 7pm; contact Andrew Richards for further details.

The Phoenix are brought to earth in Caernarfon

CAERNARFON PENCOD PHOENIX

10

It was straight off the coach with time for a 20-minute warm-up before the game. With early pressure from Phoenix, a well-worked forwards effort saw a try by Louise Jones.

Caernarfon responded quickly to that pressure with a try and conversion to take the lead, and they increased their lead in the first half, with Phoenix kicking the ball away to Caernarfon's better running players.

Despite Phoenix's limited number of players available for this game, and a few injuries which took its toll again, they started the second half with good, strong pressure and pure guts from the forwards.

A break from Lowrie Reeves gave Phoenix a well-deserved try. There were breaks from Alana Shakespeare, Leanne Casely, Natalie O'Shea, Leigh Francis, Nerys Lloyd, Jade Mullen and darting wing Sam Humphrey, while captain Marina Newth led by example but they couldn't get to the try line.

Caernarfon kept a hold on their lead, and the hold on the game.

Both sides never gave up and Phoenix's continuous scrummaging and physical strength sadly couldn't get another try. A late sinbin for Phoenix gave the advantage to the opponents, with gaps opening up and missed tackles taking the game from the Phoenix.

With Waunarlwdd disbanded, there is a break for Phoenix this weekend but next up is another away game to Croesyceiliog on October 23.

Mumbles RFC outflank Pencoed 1sts

Mumbles 36 Pencoed 23

ON a glorious sunny day at Mumbles, Pencoed were caught cold in the opening 10 minutes, conceding two tries.

Outside half Marc Davies opened Pencoed's account with a penalty goal, but Mumbles got their third try, with full back Fisher, who tormented Pencoed through the middle of the park all afternoon, prominent in the move.

The Pencoed pack, who were more than holding their own at this juncture, took play into home territory with an impressive 20-metre rolling maul, before No 8 Gareth Prentice set up the first Pencoed try, bursting strongly through the home midfield before a well timed off-load sent supporting skipper Ken Morris away from 30 metres to score.

Davies converted and Mumbles led at the break 15-10.

A series of penalties early in the second half took the scoreline to 21-13, before a home counter attack again exposed a fragile Pencoed defence for a 26-13 lead, further increased with a penalty goal.

Davies then pulled back three points for Pencoed. Despite the home lead, Pencoed were getting the better of the forward exchanges and destroyed a home scrum before another 20-metre rolling maul up the slope on the undulating Mumbles pitch was blown up short of the line – to the bewilderment of the Pencoed support.

Pencoed frustrations continued when on the attack, possession was needlessly kicked away to danger man Fisher, who proceeded to carve up the Pencoed ranks on the counter and stretch the home lead to 36-16.

The Pencoed pack, however, had the last word, again mauling strongly for prop forward Nicky Hawkins to cross. Davies converted for a final scoreline of 36-23.

The Pencoed squad will reflect on a defensive performance which cost them dear in this match, with first up missed tackles apparent in the first three home tries.

A positive was the effort of the pack, who finished the match very strongly with No 8 Prentice to the fore with a number of forceful carries.

On Saturday, the team play a friendly at Penlan, who occupy fourth position in Division 5 South West, as scheduled opponents BP Llandarcy unfortunately appear to be defunct.

The Second XV travel to Nantymoel for a league fixture, while the Youth team entertain Bryncethin in the amended league format.

MAESTEG CELTIC YOUTH PYLE YOUTH

PYLE visited Maesteg Celtic in what was an entertaining and close league game.

The whole match was played with high intensity and both sets of players attacked at every opportunity. From the start, Celtic used their bigger forwards to drive into the Pyle half, where they were awarded a penalty which was slot- ted over.

Pyle came back with some good forward work of their own and were rewarded with a penalty when a Celtic tackler failed to roll away; Kyle O'Reilly was successful with the kick.

Celtic then entered a period of dominance with their forwards doing some heavy damage to the Pyle defence and they were rewarded with two easy tries which were also converted.

Unlike last season, though, Pyle kept their heads up and worked hard at closing the deficit. When a scrum was awarded just outside the Celtic 22, Pyle moved the ball quickly through the hands for full-back Rhys Ansen to dive over in the corner. Unfortunately for Pyle, O'Reilly missed the conversion and two further penalty chances.

The second half started badly for Pyle with captain Daniel Forrester being yellow-carded for an infringement at a ruck. This allowed Celtic to move the ball into the Pyle 22 and over the try line, only for the ball to be held up. From the resulting scrum, Celtic tried to move the ball out wide, but Ansen intercepted a pass and ran the length of the field for a try under the posts, O'Reilly adding the extra points.

With Forrester still off the field, Celtic quickly replied with a drive-over try by the Celtic captain, the conversion also being successful, and this was quickly followed by another successful penalty.

Pyle rallied again and some good running by centre Jamie Townsend got them into the Celtic half where they were awarded a penalty, O'Reilly duly slotting it.

With time running out, Pyle tried to move the ball up the field but lost it and Celtic kicked into touch to end the game.

Rhys Ansen was awarded the Pyle man of the match award for his two well-taken tries and dogged tackling throughout the game. Jamie Townsend and Kyle O'Reilly were the other players of note for Pyle.

THE Ath under-11s played away against Maesteg Celtic and kicked off, putting Maesteg under some good early pressure.

Both teams were well matched and showed some great attacking and defending skills, but it was the Ath who managed to break the deadlock.

Charles Creffield was set free to score after the Ath moved the ball well through the hands. Kasari Mehta kicked the conversion to make it 7-0.

Both teams continued to play well in the energy sapping heat with no further points being scored before half-time.

The Ath made several changes at half-time and Maesteg got the second half under way. The Ath came out of the blocks and were camped in the Maesteg half. Some resolute defending from the home team prevented the Ath from scoring on several occasions.

More intense pressure from the Ath saw Dan O'Sullivan score. Connor

Maesteg managed to defend their line for a long period with the Ath piling forward at every opportunity. Just before the end of the game, the Ath managed to score three tries in quick succession. The first was scored by Dan O'Sullivan who made a great run to get over the line, Kasari Mehta converting to make it 28-0.

Straight from the kick-off, Dan O'Sullivan completed his hat trick by crashing over to score. Connor Fabian converted to extend the lead to 35-0.

The final try was scored by captain Thomas Anthony after some more great play from the Ath. Connor Fabian converted to make the final score Bridgend Ath 42 Maesteg Celtic 0.

Kenfig Hill cruise to a well-earned victory

RIGHT: Steve Gillard crosses the line.

KENFIG HILL made heavy weather of the first 20 minutes against last year's Division Three West champions Crymch, who showed grit and determination in defence and were close to scoring on three occasions in this period, only for the solid Mules defence to deny them.

The deadlock was broken when some quick thinking by Kenfig Hill scrum-half Tom Briggs saw him score near the posts, with outside-half Raymond Evans converting.

Crymch dropped out, Kenfig Hill attacked and from a kick ahead, full-back Matthew Tossell sped through to touch down, Evans adding the conversion.

over for a try, converted by outside-half Ianto Griffiths.

Kenfig Hill responded in the best possible way with some slick inter-passing which saw left winger Ben Clarke cross for a try again converted by Evans.

This gave a half-time score of Kenfig Hill 21 Crymch 7.

Kenfig Hill scored almost straight from the kick off through all action flanker Steve Gillard, converted by Evans, followed almost immediately by a forward-orientated try when Thomas Maund took the final pass on the visitors' 25 and powered his way through the covering defence, with Evans adding that conversion too.

Mathew Tossell showed some delicate running skills for his second try of the game, ghosting through the covering defence, with Evans converting.

Kenfig Hill then scored a pushover try from a five-yard scrum with No 8 Derwyn Rees

Crymch didn't give up and a superb passing move between backs and forwards from their own 25 saw Cennydd James cross for his second try of the game.

In a grandstand finish, Tom Briggs scored his second try of the game, converted by Evans to give a final score of Kenfig Hill 61 Crymch 12.

Raymond Evans was named as the referee's man of the match, as well as winning the Prince of Wales dinner for two.

There was an outstanding display in the centre by Chris Tossell, while fellow centre Rhodri Clark also played well.

ST PETERS SECOND XV 21 KENFIG HILL SECOND XV 30
THERE was a man of the match performance by Dan Wright in this superb away performance.

The whole team played well as a unit with a good blend of age and experience on the field, with good performances by Richard Underhill and Matthew Bater and Owen Davies shining at outside-half.

Pencoed on top in under-11 rugby derby

TONDU PENCOED 7 63

A SHORT trip to Tondy saw these youngsters put in their best display of the season so far.

With a few key players missing, the visitors rearranged the squad and played several players out of position.

Yet again, the current district champions adapted to this format and quickly opened the scoring from the kick off.

Tondy were playing a tight forwards game but Pencoed were dominating the break down with excellent work again from Ben Jones and Ben Sullivan at the rucks.

Rhys Spurgeon keeps putting in game-winning performances, with flyers Tyron Harding and Jonathan Carr running in the tries; a record for the season saw Jonathan run in four touchdowns.

MIKEY Bosley, playing for the first time as scrum half, gave excel-

Triathelete Cael Chamberlain showed his fitness by being involved in every combination and led the tackle count, while Tom Bending, playing at full back, swept up every kick from a desperate Tondy defence.

However, Pencoed relentlessly attacked with Oliver Lewis and birthday boy Josh Sands terrorising the home side's three-quarters.

Another great team performance at the whistle saw Pencoed deserving winners.

This was quickly followed up by a home free kick taken quickly and an incisive break by Davies released full-back Dan Bibby for a run into the opposite corner and this time Thomas sent the conversion over.

The Athletic were attempting a fightback at this point but their driving play lacked an edge and when the ball was moved wide, the passing was laboured and predictable.

George anticipated Morris's pass and intercepted to race in from 60 metres out for the bonus point try which was again improved by Thomas.

UWIC continued to press and the Athletic had a lucky escape when left wing Owen Jenkins' kick ahead just rolled over the dead-ball line. From the drop-out, the Athletic launched an attack down the left but Butler's kick was charged down by Tyler who regathered and raced over from 30 metres without a hand being laid on him. Thomas again converted.

This concluded the scoring, but the Athletic had two more opportunities to score following Aled Thomas's break and cross-kick to Jones that the scrambling defence managed to snuff out, and a Lloyd Pemberton break that petered out when support was slow to reach the wing-man.

There was very little on the positive to take from this game and John Apsee and Dai Williams certainly have food for thought this week before the arrival of Llangennech to Newbridge Fields this week.

BRIDGEND Athletic under-11s Porthcawl at home.

The Ath got the game underway and were soon putting pressure on the Porthcawl defence.

Good hands from the Ath backs lead to Daffydd Beech scoring in the corner. Kasari Mehta converted to make it 7-0.

Kasari Mehta stepped up and kicked the conversion to make it 14-0.

The Ath continued to pressure

Porthcawl and Dan O'Sullivan was next to score after the team showed some great handling to release him. Once again Kasari Mehta kicked the conversion to make it 28-0.

The final try of the half was scored by Jamie Marshall after another good passing move by the Ath; Mehta converted making it 35-0.

The second half saw the Ath carry on from where they left off in the first half, and it wasn't long before Thomas Anthony was put free to score a well-taken try.

Connor Fabian stepped up to convert, making the score 42-0.

The Ath kept pressing and Connor Fabian broke the defence well with a good run and went over to score; he then stepped up to kick the conversion, making it 49-0 to the Ath.

The final Ath try came from Megan Webb who rounded off another good move from the Ath.

The visitors did manage to score a consolation try right at the end of the match which was converted to make the final score Bridgend Ath 56, Porthcawl 7.

Finals day at club

The Rosser Cup finalists David Jones, Mark Williams, Mark Furneaux and Gareth Tatchell, with club captain Tony Price.

CLUB championship finals day at P&K is never predictable. Favourites get beaten; matches which appear to be over suddenly have a change of direction, and this year was no exception.

In the club championship, Matthew Peet, a regular winner in previous years, was seven up at one stage, only for his opponent, Jonathan Stone, to stage the fight-back of a lifetime and take the match to the 36th hole. However, experience prevailed and Matthew won the day.

In the Liscombe Cup final, Clive Richard beat Nick Evans. Returning junior Nick Evans could not quite do it, as he lost a ball on the 14th hole but still took the match to the 36th hole.

The Junior Club Championship resulted in quite a big win for the in-form Tom Furneaux over the highly-rated Jamie Jones.

Jamie works in the professional shop and has suffered severe leg pulling since the match.

Tom, half Jamie's size, proved that sometimes a good little 'un can beat a good big 'un.

The Graham Bowl saw Wynne Evans beat Darryl James on the 36th hole.

The standard of golf was extremely high, with Darryl playing off two and Wynne playing off 11.

The Rosser Cup is a foursomes competition where the two players hit alternate shots. This year, the final was a classic, requiring nine extra holes to separate the pairs.

David Jones and Mark Williams three-putted the 16th, and then lost the 17th, where they were conceding a shot.

On the 36th hole, it looked as if Mark Furneaux and Gareth Tatchell were about to win the match when Mark sank a 20-foot putt to take the match into extra holes. However, David and Mark eventually prevailed on the 45th.

In the Minnows Cup, Ben Vance Daniel beat

Rhodri Booth by 3 to 1 in a very close match. Ben is now 'enjoying' a cut in handicap, while Rhodri looks forward to playing in the junior match play final.

Normally, the Sker Salver final is played on finals day, but Darryl James was in the final of the Graham Bowl, which meant that the Salver final had to be played on another day.

Darryl won this prestigious competition, beating Russell Adams on the final hole.

FIRST TEAM REPORT

IT has been a marvellous year for the first team; we qualified for the Welsh team championships at Creigiau, beating

St Mellons, who are in the First Division.

We went on to play at Aberystwyth, ending up in the last 16 – a great achievement, narrowly losing to Mold.

Well done girls – my thanks to everyone involved.

The first team have won their division in style, only losing one game to Wenvoe away; the ladies have thoroughly deserved their promotion playing great golf.

I would like to personally thank all the ladies who have played and stood by. They are: Claire Morris, Alison Hurry, Cheryl Western, Joan John, Sue Forbes, Cora Edwards, Eira Jones, Gwyneth Parsons, Sheila John and Ros Williams.

Well done, ladies, and I look forward to next season playing in our new division.

SIAN THOMAS (first team captain) Pyle and Kenfig ladies' 2nd team

WHAT a fabulous season Pyle and Kenfig ladies' second team have had in 2011.

The team have won all five of their home matches, and of the five away matches, we won at Cottrell Park and at the Grove, halved with Wenvoe and narrowly lost the other two matches at Cardiff and Fairwood Park.

In total, we scored 17.5 points, and I am extremely proud that we are moving up a division next season.

I would like to thank this opportunity to thank the second team players, reserves, and reserves of the reserves, for their dedication to play for the team in all sorts of weather, and especially for the girls who stood by for each match; well done, girls!

Bridgend six-a-side football round-up

NO TEA TONIGHT recorded a commanding victory in the Bridgend six-a-side Premier Division as they eased past the challenge of Hangover Heroes by four goals to nil.

West House FC continue to top the charts however as they saw off Athleticio Bridgend 2-0, while Llanharan were big winners in Division One, 4-0 against Better Than Inter.

In the Bridgend Wednesday six-a-side football league, The Invincibles showed just why they are yet to drop a point and hammered rock bottom Gunt FC 11-0, although ABCDEF also maintained their 100 per cent record too, and eased out FC Ogmere 3-0, thanks largely to Jordan Pugh.

Bryncethin warm up against Ravens

BRYNCEETHIN under-11s welcomed their near neighbours the Valley Ravens for an informal training match.

This gave all the Bryncethin players a run out and enabled the small in number, but very committed players from the Ravens, to get some rugby under their belts.

A pulsating encounter followed with flowing rugby from both teams. Both sets of players contributed fully with the action going from end to end. Defences were tenacious and the Ravens' coaches should take great heart in the efforts of all their charges.

Aaron Thomas (4), Scott Murrell (3) and Keiran Dixon (2) were the pick of the scorers with support from Scott Ryall and Tomas Jones.

The coaches of Bryncethin wish the coaches and players of the Valley Ravens the very best of luck for the season. They have a terrific bunch of kids who played with plenty of skill and no little heart.

It is hoped that any children from the area who wish to take part will look to support their local club.

Bryncethin 61 V Nantffyllon 19 A FEAST of running rugby on the hottest day of the year... it must be Bryncethin in October!

A tight first half against a very competitive Nantffyllon saw tries from Josh Napper and Morgan Stevens, both converted by the faultless Jack Thomas. A strong response from the visitors saw a half-time score of 14-12.

The second half started in a similar vein with the action moving from end to end. Exceptional defence by Scott Murrell inspired his teammates to repel the Nanty attacks with Finlay Mullens, Tomas Jones and Keiran Dixon all putting some super tackling in.

A fantastic display from the Bryncethin youngsters was only spoiled by a number of injuries picked up during the second half, and it is hoped that they all make a speedy recovery.

Yet another display of clinical finishing from Scott Murrell saw him collect three tries. Powerful running and clearing out from Morgan Rimmon and Tobias Hunt set the tone as the tries kept coming.

Scores from the outstanding Rhys Davies, Aaron Thomas, Daniel Osarigie and Luke Thomas were complemented by kicks from Jack Thomas, Finlay Mullens and Josh Napper.

Well done to the numerous Bryncethin players who were selected for district trials over recent weeks, with particular mentions for Scott Ryall and Daniel Osarigie for progressing as far as they have so far.

Match day squad: Daniel Osarigie, Aaron Thomas, Keiran Dixon, Luke Thomas, Scott Ryall, Josh Napper, Jack Thomas, Morgan Stevens, Scott Murrell, Rhys Davies, Morgan Rimmon, Finlay Mullens, Tomas Jones and Tobias Hunt.

Man of the match: A faultless kicking display and a mature all-round performance from Jack Thomas.

Barry Pumas maintain their winning form

BARRY Pumas racked up three league points after dominating Whitchurch-based team Maltsters Arms.

Pumas managed to pass the ball despite the wet conditions and broke the deadlock on the 15-minute mark when Matthew Davie burst through the defence to slot the ball past the keeper.

On-form winger Brian Gillen got the second goal when his shot from 20 yards out found the corner of

With only a bare 11 players, Pumas fought hard in the second half but couldn't add any further goals.

Stand-in goalkeeper Dean Hyde earned himself the man of the match award with some fine saves, and they ran out 3-0 winners.

MORGAN STEPHENS

Major are victorious in the battle of the Llantwits

ON a beautiful Saturday afternoon it was the battle of the two Llantwits, with Llantwit Major AFC travelling to Llantwit Fardre.

The first ten minutes saw end to end football, but with neither team managing to keep possession, nor having a reasonable shot on target.

The Major were then awarded a free kick on the edge of the Fardre box, taken by Pratt and resulting in a good header from Robinson which struck a defender and went over the crossbar.

This chance was quickly followed by a great through ball to Mortimer on the right, who found Nash in a good position but his shot was well saved by the home goalkeeper.

Leigh Pratt was having a great game in mid-field, Nicky Cox played a great ball through to Faux, who was unmarked on the right wing, and scored a great goal, beating the Fardre keeper with a precision shot into the corner.

The home side battled back and were soon awarded a dangerous free kick, but the shot was pulled wide.

The visitors were getting more and more possession and playing some of their best football of the season creating several good chances for Wayne Faux and Sean Nash.

Robinson found Mortimer unmarked, but his shot went wide.

The half time whistle came with the Major well on top but having only scored the one goal from many chances and having by far the majority of the play.

After the break, Llantwit Fardre were quickly out of the blocks retaining possession well and having a couple of chances at goal.

Llantwit Major then got back into the game with a great break from midfield finding James Rees on the right, who in turn found the busy centre forward Nash, whose effort was ruled offside.

More creative play and some great battles in midfield from the visitors led to another good chance but Nash's shot was easily saved.

The Major continued with their relentless pressure, this time Nash finding Faux on his right, a great cross was met by Mortimer who headed just over the bar. The Major were playing more and more creative football in midfield and the second goal soon came from another good move down the left side, culminating with James Rees cutting inside and striking a great shot into the left corner, giving the home keeper no chance.

The Major continued to win everything in mid-field and Nash unselfishly found Mortimer, who shot well resulting in a good save and a corner being awarded.

Tim Watts, the Major's manager, brought on fresh legs with Rhys Attley and Lee Jones replacing the mid-field combination of Wayne Faux and James Rees.

Attley was quickly into the action breaking clear and finding Mortimer who struck well bringing another good save from the Fardre keeper, the ball striking the crossbar and out for a corner.

With ten minutes to go the Major skipper Lindsay, rested on the bench this week, replaced Mortimer upfront, and was soon into the play finding Dean Cleave who struck another good shot onto the bar.

Attley eventually got his name on the score-sheet when just before the final whistle he found himself one on one with the keeper and his scuffed shot found the net.

The Major keep their six point lead at the top of the table with both their rivals also winning away from home.

The man of the match could have gone to any of the visiting players, but this week it was the industrious Sean Nash.

Team: Lansdown, Garrett, Robinson, Cox, Shaw, Faux, Cleave, Rees, Pratt, Mortimer, Nash, Lindsay, Attley, Jones, Clement and Vincent.

The next game is at home to Hirwaun and Mackworth in the second round of the Seniors Cup, of which Llantwit Major are currently the holders.

PGA at Southerndown

THE cream of Welsh golf will descend on Southerndown next week to contest the Welsh National PGA Championship, supported by Ryder Cup Europe.

Windermer-based Simon Edwards, who lifted the title for the third time in his career at Royal St David's 12 months ago, returns to defend his crown on the back of two international forays. The tournament has been won by a host of leading players including Ian Woosnam, Percy Alliss, Sid Moulton and Brian Huggett.

The leading non-exempt finisher will earn a place in the Welsh team for the PGAs of Europe International Team Championship at Vale de Lobo in Portugal in November, plus a start in the 2012 Celtic Manor Wales Open.

NIPPERS CAP OFF THEIR SEASON WITH SUCCESS AT CHAMPIONSHIPS

THE end of August, and the summer lifesaving season, saw the final competition for the Llantwit Major Nippers – the GB Championships in Portreath, Cornwall.

A team of nine Nippers attended the event, along with friends and family, and the Nippers feel like they have conquered Cornwall!

"This team have never been to the British Championships before so we weren't sure what to expect," said Andy Wiggins, Nippers coach.

Among 560 Nippers competing, there were between 40 and 60 children taking part in every event.

"All of the children had to do a 1k run and as if that wasn't hard enough, half of it was over shale and the rest was on soft sand – a huge challenge for those who took part," said Andy, proud of his team's achievement.

"It just shows what competing in the GB championships means and, therefore, this was a fantastic experience for the kids outside of their normal Nipper carnivals."

A competing team consisting of Katie Prynne, Mikey Prynne, Grace Insole, Tom Insole, Millie Wiggins, Ruby Davies, Theo Davies, Morgan Mitchem and Sean McKenna, all made the trip to Cornwall and as well as having an amazing time, they learnt some very valuable skills.

RESULTS:

Under-9 boys - Run/Wade/Run - fifth, Tom Insole; under-10 girls - Run/Wade/Run - fourth, Ruby Davies and 10th, Millie Wiggins; under-9 boys - Surf Race - seventh, Tom Insole; under-10 girls - Surf Race - 15th, Ruby Davies; under-11 girls - Surf Race - third, Grace Insole; under-10 girl -s Board Rescue - fourth, Ruby Davies and Millie Wiggins; under-10 girls Board Race - 16th, Millie Wiggins; under-10 - Flags - fifth, Millie Wiggins and third, Ruby Davies; under-11 - Flags - sixth, Grace Insole; under-10 - Sprint - second, Millie

ABOVE: It was an eventful day for the nippers.

Wiggins; under-11 - Golden Nipper - 13th, Grace Insole; under-10 - Long Run - 10th Ruby Davies; Sean McKenna did this event, fell over one of the many stones on the course, cracked the top of his nose, but still got up and did a sprint finish.

It is also worth remembering that every event a Nipper entered, they had to do it two or three times due to heats and then semi-finals and although Theo, Katie, Mikey, Morgan and Sean weren't placed in the top 16, they all entered, played a major part in the team and gained valuable experience to go forward.

Another two big results for the club saw Bledwyn Mitchem, who was dressed head to toe in Llantwit kit, come second in the under-5s Flags, and he's only three! And Lauren Prynne and Livy Insole won the sand castle competition.

Juniors: GB Youth (up to under-19) Championships –

Portreath – August 22-23: The team of six juniors (Ellen and Tamara Pitt, Megan Osborne, Olivia Insole, Lauren Prynne and Josh McKenna) did a fantastic job at the British Championships, coming 18th out of 25 teams.

With 40-plus competitors in each age group, it was a difficult job to get into a final, let alone win a medal. With challenging surf conditions, we had some fantastic results in the Tube and Board rescues and gained a lot of experience to carry forward to next year.

Megan Osborne – gold in sprint; silver in flags; bronze in 1k; Tamara Pitt – bronze in sprint; Megan Osborne/Ellen Pitt – went up an age group to do under-17 tube rescue and came a fantastic 10th place; Olivia Insole/Lauren Prynne – under-15 rescue tube – seventh place and 16th in the board rescue; Josh McKenna – did well in Sprint, 1k and Flags.

GB Masters: With only three masters, we came 17th out of 23 teams: Jen - fifth, sprints; Steph - first, ski, second, board, third, 1k and third, sprints; Andrea, Jen and Steph, second, sprint relay.

For all Llantwit Major Surf Lifesaving Club new member enquiries or to find out more about joining the nippers, log on to www.llantwitmajorslsc.org.uk or e-mail Sarah (membership secretary) at sarah@thomas25.orangehome.co.uk NW

A DAMP, dismal morning saw Cowbridge playing Tondur.

The first period kicked off with Tondur in possession, and after some strong running, Tondur crossed the line for the opening try of the game.

Forcing a turnover from Cowbridge's restart a strong run from the Tondur number 2 put pressure on the Cowbridge line again.

A good period of running attacking rugby followed for Cowbridge allowing Oliver Jarman to even the scores at 1-1.

COWBRIDGE 6
TONDUR 6

came in the form of a try from Jake Williams.

All change for the Cowbridge team for the second period of play and a powerful performance from Tondur allowed them to score twice before Cowbridge got to grips with the defence.

A try from Jay Downes for Cowbridge brought the scores back to 4-3 before Tondur extended their lead again with the second period finishing with the scores at 5-3.

All the Cowbridge squad played during the third period.

The Cowbridge team were now moving the ball more freely through the team although both teams were still taking the direct route and not moving play away from the contact area.

Jake crossed for his second try early in the third period clawing back the deficit to a single try.

Tondur scored another, before tries by first Rhys Williams and then Jay Downes brought the scores level at the end of the game.

Vale archer Mat does the double

CODE crossing local archer Mat Symmonds recently took gold at the GNAS Welsh Field Archery Championships, earning him the rare accolade of undisputed champion.

The sport of field archery operates under two codes and after spending more than 26 years shooting in the IFAA code, Mat made the decision in 2010 to cross to the FITA (Olympic) code of the sport.

Having spent a year learning the subtly different rules and regulations of the FITA code, Mat finished the 2011 season with a shot at the Welsh Field Championships, which took place on September 24-25 at Glyncoed Field Archery Centre at Ton Pentre, Rhondda.

Round 1 consisted of 24 targets, all shot at unmarked distances, meaning the archers had to estimate the distance as well as tackle the terrain when making their shots.

In the event, Mat got off to a flying start and ended the first round with a strong scoreline.

The second and final round was the marked round and again the local archer began piling on the points to cruise to the title.

Having won the Welsh Field Championships in the IFAA code in April, and having captured the Welsh Open 3D Championships in June, this latest championship victory made Mathew just the third archer ever to be simultaneously the national champion in all three disciplines.

This feat was first achieved in 1977 by Huw Bumford of BP Plastics (Barry) Archers and then by Tony Lewis of Gwent Bowmen in 1990.

Mat will next be in action in December at the Telford Arena where he will contest the GNAS British Indoor Championships. SR

Defeat for Glamorgan Farmers' Golf Society

THE annual challenge match for the inter-county golfing trophy, played between members of the Glamorgan Farmers' Golf Society and their contemporaries from Monmouthshire, was played recently at the very impressive Dewstow Golf Club near Chepstow.

Following their excellent success last year, much was expected from a strong squad selected by society vice-captain Lyn Thomas.

Unfortunately for the visitors their hosts were able to assemble an even stronger squad, resulting in a convincing win for the home team.

With three points at stake in each of the 11 four-ball matches, Monmouthshire started off in convincing style with Steve Waters and Peter Harris seeing off the strong challenge of Trevor Wooding and guest Barrie Melhuish to secure a 2 points to 1 victory, followed shortly after by Jonathan Davies and Graham James taking two and a half points off Chris Rooney and Glyn Watts-Jones.

With Godfrey Lewis and Keith Walker being white washed by their opponents Ken Davies and Martin Ley, and Keith James and Tony McCarthy only securing one point in their match against Alan Husband and John Anstey, the home team were racing towards the 17 points needed for an outright win.

Bryan Owen and Keith Davies could only manage half a point against Trevor Baker and Brian Attwell, while Lyn Thomas and Brian Jones fared only marginally better, taking just one point in their match against Colin Parry and Mike Williams.

Victory was secured for the home team when Richard Few and Martin Richardson took all three points in their match against John Davies and Aubrey Thomas.

Thankfully for the Glamorgan team the last few matches out on the course produced a couple of excellent performances.

Clive Thomas, partnered by Ray Thomas, secured all three points against W Gwyn Thomas and Gerald Flannagan and another three points were salvaged by Jim Hayes and Clive Edwards against their opponents Brian Burrell and Reg Meyrick.

In the penultimate match, Gwyn Thomas and David Williams picked up two points against John Morgan and Peter O'Toole while in the final match Julian Kelly and Mike King could only muster just half a point against Andy Hilditch and Gwyn Jones.

This resulted in a convincing 20 points to 12 points victory to the Monmouthshire Farmers.

Nearest the pin on the par three holes were Godfrey Lewis, Graham James, Tony McCarthy and Julian Kelly, while David Williams hit the longest drive of the day on the selected hole.

Permovo provides dedicated vehicle servicing and repairs for vehicles from the leading European vehicle manufacturers.

Our staff have specialist training and skills from working in main dealer franchises including Mercedes, Audi and Saab. Permovo is dedicated to ensuring that our staff have undergone and continue to receive extensive, up to date training so that we can ensure we have the expertise and experience to get to the bottom of your vehicle problems accurately and effectively.

Diagnostics are at the core of our business; we have invested more in specialist and main dealer equipment than anyone else in the area. Whether you have a Jaguar, Land Rover, Mercedes, Porsche, BMW, Lexus, Bentley, Ferrari, Maserati or an Audi we have the same diagnostic tooling and technical information as the dealer, you won't find this ability in any other garage in South Wales. We can do everything the dealer does plus some, such as Encoding new modules, Key programming, Key repairs, ECU repairs, Engine tuning and a lot more.

We are not a jack of all trades; we don't do car sales or body repairs, we are purely and solely dedicated to maintaining vehicles to the high specification the manufacturer intended so that you get the best out of your vehicle. We don't cut corners and we don't have an expensive main road showroom to fund and whilst our workshop isn't a glossy showroom it's fully equipped and very clean. The savings we pass on to you aren't derived from doing a second rate job or by using low quality parts or oils.

Quality is paramount and we strive to give you complete peace of mind; our sole objective is to provide better than main dealer service levels at independent prices so that you can rely on us and come back year after year.

If your car is only a few years old and under warranty, as specialists we can service your car to exactly the same standard required to maintain the warranty and we'll give you a copy of the service schedule with the technicians comments to prove it. If under warranty we will give you an appraisal to take to the dealer, ensuring that anything that's wrong gets resolved before the warranty expires. Your service book will be stamped and you will maintain your vehicles service history ensuring the best possible resale value & on-going reliability.

We provide a Free Courtesy car, Collection or Drop Off for all customers, just ask when booking. Every service includes a free dealer diagnostic and air-con top up.

Dinas put out of the Cup by Builth Wells

THIS was a costly result with Dinas unable to make the most of their chances in the game, while the visitors scored from two of their three strikes on goal.

The visitors caught the home defence cold, despite the heat, as early as the first minute, a Shane Claridge free-kick finding Lee James unmarked at the far post and he made no mistake heading in from eight yards.

Dinas responded with Joe Briscoe and Ricki Morgan shooting wide of goal and when a poor defensive clearance fell for Liam Jeremy on the left, his driven ball across the six yard box was cleared for an unproductive corner.

On 32 minutes a Builth free-kick, from a similar position to the one they scored from, was cleared for a corner taken by Jonny Samuel; keeper Damien Lack had to be alert to punch clear at his near post.

A few minutes later Will Green shot narrowly over the Dinas bar

when a defensive clearance fell to his feet.

The home side had the final opportunity of the first-half when Ricki Morgan's free-kick hit the side netting but they weren't showing any cutting edge in the final third of the pitch and couldn't really complain going in a goal down.

Dinas started more brightly after the break and again it was the industrious Morgan who got to a Joe Hinds cross but he mis-kicked on the penalty spot and the chance was gone.

Fifteen minutes into the half, manager Phil Clay used his substitutes to try to pep up the attack in what had become a very warm autumn afternoon.

Dave Penikett saved the Dinas keeper's blushes when a long clearance by the Builth defence was allowed to bounce over him towards the goal, but he had time to clear the ball.

Dinas sub Mark

Dunford had an opportunity for the equaliser when he hooked a corner towards goal, but it was straight at Stuart Turpin in the Builth goal.

This proved costly when a couple of minutes later Builth doubled their lead.

A poor clearance by the home defence fell to Lee James who immediately drilled the ball low and into the corner of the net from the edge of the area.

A couple of efforts by Liam Jeremy were all Dinas could muster until a couple of minutes from full-time when Dinas produced the best move of the game.

A good ball found Dunford on the right of the area, and his in-perfect ball found Joe Briscoe rushing in at the far post, but his diving header went inches wide of the post.

A poor display especially following on from the battling showing the previous week, but they will have to pick themselves up for a tough League Cup tie next week at home to First Division West End.

Squad: Damien Lack, Steve Provis, Mike Lewis, Chris Hinam, Dave Penikett, Kyle Offer, Ricki Morgan, Jordan Phillips, Jo Hinds, Joe Briscoe, Liam Jeremy. Subs: Richard Yarr, Paul McCarthy, Mark Dunford.

The next game is Welsh League Cup round two on Saturday, October 8, Dinas Powys v West End, kick-off 2pm.

LIONS SAY THANK YOU

Park Lions under-14s are proudly sporting their new kit, sponsored by Buyology. Contact Kim on 01446 738486 for information about the team

Rhose under-13s' late winner

SULLY started well and used the advantage of the slope in the first half.

Rhose defenders Patrick O'Carroll and Matt Cottingham remained solid at the back and linked up well with Josh Brown and Lee Bartlett in the middle of pitch.

Sully took the lead with a well-taken strike, but Rhose upped the tempo and their pressure was rewarded when Mitch McCabe equalised from the penalty spot.

In the second half, Rhose looked to play down the flanks with Daniel Cope and Jordan Holt both driving forward and delivering some excellent crosses.

Sully were denied the lead when goalkeeper Michael Wilson dived to his left to stop a long-range effort and Ryan Hughes sprinted back to make a goal-line clearance.

Bradley Cayton fed the ball through to Mitch McCabe, whose effort went just wide and Joe Hopkins spread the ball well in midfield.

Rhose grabbed the winner when Edward Thomas made a terrific long-range cross which was met by Cameron Leach, who timed his run to perfection and headed past the oncoming Sully goalkeeper.

TWELVE brave riders have taken up the reins in aid of the Countryside Alliance's Rural Race Challenge, which takes place during the Countryside Race Day at Ffos Las, on Sunday, October 9.

Experiencing the thrills, but hopefully not the spills, of racing will be last year's winner Elaine Francis, who romped home on Hector's House; and back for second helpings will be Cher Gill, Lynda Evans and Shan Cothi. Joining them will be Mickey Bowen, Craig Messenger, Rebecca Hitchcock, Nikki Evans,

Shan Cothi

Colin Evans, Rebecca Curtis who, incidentally, will be racing against her partner Gearoid Costello, and Anna Hughes, making up the field of 12.

For more information, visit www.countryside-alliance.org

Evan's winner

LLANCAFARN trainer Evan Williams landed the Beginners Chase at Sedgfield last Tuesday with his six-year-old bay gelding Get It On, who romped home an 18-lengths winner under stable jockey Paul Moloney.

Get It On, who is owned by Mr John Lee Jones, was well backed at odds of 11-4 and looks sure to go on to better things.

On the flat at Chepstow, Bernard Llewellyn's Sweet World, ridden by Martin Lane, took division two of the Lindley Catering Handicap.

SKODA JOKES ARE A THING OF THE PAST

by Tim Saunders

WHEN I was small, my Dad used to enjoy telling me Skoda jokes. His witty routine would include: why does a Skoda have a heated rear wind-screen? Answer: To keep your hands warm when pushing it. What do you call a soft top Skoda? Answer: A skip.

These cruel jokes weren't very fair because if nothing else, the Estelle and Favorit models of the 80s and 90s, to which these jokes referred, had more character than the mainstream competition and despite their curious looks, even these examples were pretty robust and reliable.

Since Volkswagen took over the brand in the early 90s, times have most certainly changed and if those jokes weren't relevant then, they most definitely are not now – so much so that Hampshire Constabulary runs Skoda Octavias in its fleet.

Skoda Octavia Scout

For those motorists who need a 4x4 but also want an estate, Skoda has further improved on its legendary Octavia by adding a Scout version, which was first introduced in 2007.

Basically, it has raised ride height and fixed four wheel drive – all for under £23,000. The test car fitted with the two-litre diesel engine and six-speed automatic box makes for an extremely agile and capable vehicle.

It is easy to forget that it is a massive estate car with a capacious boot that can swallow a week's shopping and my daughter's pushchair without an issue.

This brute almost delivers 50mpg and yet has the ability to be driven long and hard, if required, and has excellent, responsive braking. I can see why the police like their Skodas.

Inside, the comfy Alcantara upholstery – a mix of leather and suede – provides a luxurious feel. However, the diesel unit is a little noisy and can be heard from inside but nevertheless, it feels a very well put together and solid car.

Parkers, the car experts, said: "The Octavia Scout is an ideal choice for 4x4 buyers looking for less bulk. There's all the practicality of the Octavia estate but with the bonus of four-wheel drive when you need it, raised ride height and underbody protection.

"It is ideal if you only need occasional off-road ability or regularly tow trailers or caravans. It also comes very well equipped as standard."

All in all, the competitively priced Scout is a great alternative to a traditional 4x4. No longer are there any jokes to be had at Skoda's expense.

Skoda Octavia Scout £22,720. Used price range: £9,258–£19,780, 2.0 TDI CR 140PS DPF, 6-speed auto. Economy: 47.9 mpg. Top speed 124 mph. 0–60mph 10.1 secs.

AFTER A HEROIC BATTLE THROUGH THE 'POOL OF DEATH'... UNDERDOGS WALES AIM TO DASH THE SMILE FROM THOSE IRISH EYES!

PLEASURE and pride, laced with relief, were evident in the Wales head coach Warren Gatland's post-match reaction to Sunday's 66-0 triumph against Fiji in Hamilton, which propelled his young charges into the quarter finals of the Rugby World Cup.

The pleasure came from watching his players produce arguably the most complete 80-minute performance of his four-year reign – just when it mattered – in front of an admiring global audience of millions.

The pride stemmed from seeing them achieve this in the New Zealander's own home town, where the former All Black is a household name.

The relief stemmed from the fact that the resounding result had not only avenged Wales' humiliating exit at the hands of Fiji in the corresponding pool stage of the 2007 World Cup, but also lifted the weight of expectation from his shoulders.

The Kiwi had frankly stated before the tournament began that like his predecessor, Gareth Jenkins, he fully expected to lose his job if Wales again failed to reach the quarter finals.

In truth, though it was the minimum target set, such punitive action was extremely unlikely, given that the Welsh Rugby Union wisely extended his contract up to the next Rugby World Cup in four years' time, even before the squad left for Down Under.

Even so, the issue was made irrelevant on Sunday by the clinical dismantling of the dangerous South Sea Islanders who had won 38-34 on that dark day in 2007 at Stade de la Beaujoir.

Interestingly, though it was of little comfort to the dismayed Welsh camp at the time, neutral observers voted it one of the most compelling games of free-flowing rugby ever seen in the World Cup.

Wales had won on the six previous occasions the two had met, including the 40-3 opener in 1985 and 58-14 in 2002; but on November 11 last year, battling Fiji stunned Wales again by holding them to a 16-16 draw at the Millennium Stadium, Cardiff.

Ten months on, it is a different story – for much has happened since then to effect a change in the Welsh psyche and much of this has to be credited to Gatland's coaching regime.

Morale-boosting RWC warm-up wins over England and Argentina and a Polish 'deep-freeze boot camp' helped hone this fast-developing Welsh team into a super-fit fighting force, with a new-found mental and physical toughness that means they can now hold their own with the world's best.

These are the qualities that are now coming to the fore in this World Cup.

"We worked really hard in the close season. We wanted to be ruthless and showed this (against Fiji). It was a good balanced performance," Gatland said with typical understatement.

In fact, the game was as good as over with a bonus point in the bag before half-time. Jamie Roberts carved his way through the defence after just four minutes for a try, followed by three more from fellow centre Scott Williams, man-of-the-match George North and dynamic skipper Sam Warburton.

Outside half Rhys Priestland landed the conversions and a penalty to make the score 31-0 at the change-over.

With the set pieces holding firm and forwards and backs linking superbly, Jamie Roberts again opened the proceedings with a try, following a powerful break by North, who like his skipper, seemed to be popping up everywhere.

Then the floodgates opened as shell-shocked Fijians found red shirts running at them from all directions.

As the Welsh replacements poured on, there were tries for hooker Lloyd Burns, Leigh Halfpenny (after an outrageous chip-ahead by prop and wannabe three-quarter Gethin Jenkins!) Lloyd Williams, and Jonathon Davies, which were converted by veteran stand-off Stephen Jones.

A 66-0 victory, including nine tries, and second place in pool D was a satisfying conclusion to Welsh efforts that had seen 180 points amassed in their four games (16-17 v South Africa; 17-10 v Samoa; 81-7 v Namibia).

Ireland's impressive 36-6 victory over Italy set up the predicted Celtic clash between the two outstanding northern hemisphere sides, in the quarter final at Eden Park on Saturday.

The more experienced, street-wise Irish and their clutch of British Lions, on the back of their convincing win over Australia, will no doubt be seen as favourites; but rest assured, there is a lot more yet to come from this confident young Wales team and a truly enthralling battle royal is in prospect.

It promises to be yet another no-holds barred encounter, between two sides that know each other well.

With this in mind, the Welsh coaches know that there are still some problem areas to be sorted out – in particular, the high number of penalties conceded.

Fiji spurned many goal-kicking opportunities, but against Ireland careless indiscretions will not go unpunished.

In a game that could well go to the wire, indiscipline could be the factor that finally decides the outcome.

However, if this confident young Wales team can replicate the urgency and clinical control shown in their pool games, man-for-man they are infinitely capable of matching Ireland and marching on to a semi-final date with England or France.

In the words of that old sporting cliché, there is everything to play for – but whatever the result, the squad have already done Wales proud.

SECOND HALF STUDENT POWER PROVES TOO MUCH FOR ATHLETIC

LAST season, the corresponding fixture, played in similar conditions, if not quite so hot, served up a ding-dong 60-point thriller with the Cardiff students just edging it by six points after staging a fantastic second half fightback.

Unfortunately, this time, despite 50 points being scored, it was very much one-way traffic as UWIC put a lethargic and lack-lustre Athletic side to the sword with a dynamic and ruthless performance, again in the second half.

Admittedly the visitors' cause was not helped by playing 20 minutes of the match with 14 players due to two players receiving yellow cards for defensive infringements, although UWIC also had a player cooling his heels for 10 minutes in the first half after a fracas at a scrummage with Athletic prop Rod Apsee, who was the pick of the team on the day.

The first half, played in unseasonal blazing sunshine, was a closely contested affair that ended with the home side leading by six points to three; two penalties by fly-half Rhydian Thomas just edging an effort by Corey Butler.

Even at half-time the writing was on the wall as the students looked far more threatening in possession and far more committed in defence than the Ewenny Road boys.

Veterans Stuart Morris and Paul Jones tried to rally the team and captain Matthew Hillman worked hard to lead by example, but it appears that one of those days was upon us – one in which every individual gives a great effort but where team cohesion and sense of purpose are sadly lacking.

Once the teams had turned around at half-time, with both restored to a full complement, UWIC exploded out of the blocks and secured a good position in the Athletic half.

There followed a period of sustained pressure where the ball was recycled until eventually No 8 Liam Cross shook off some weak tackling to power over for a try, converted by Thomas.

The introduction of Jonny Jones, Simon Mustoe and Matthew Norman for Paul Jones, Stuart Nation and Wayne Fooks, gave a brief boost to the Athletic's dynamism with an increase in tempo.

Mustoe, Apsee and Griff Davies made strong runs until scrum-half Tom Davies threw a neat dummy to slip over for a try that Butler converted to bring the Ath back within three points.

However, immediately from the restart, giant second row Josh Tyler of UWIC caught the ball and drove up to the Athletic 22.

When flanker Callum McLeod killed the ball, he was sent to the sidelines and Thomas slotted over the three points.

Aled Thomas replaced Tom Davies and his enthusiastic charge down advanced the visitors to a good position near the home line, but a poor scrum followed by a penalty carried them back into their own half.

From a scrum near the centre of the field, UWIC executed a well-planned move as Cross passed to livewire half-back Rhodri Davies. He linked smartly with centre Jamie George, who released right wing Connor Truman.

The speedster raced in for an excellent try out wide that went unconverted this time.
